Summary of Legislation

The bill creates the Colorado Coordinated Regional Mutual Aid System (CCRMAS) in the Division of Fire Prevention and Control in the Department of Public Safety (DPS) to provide for the coordinated initial response of emergency responders to emergency incidents. The division must establish, implement, and maintain the mutual aid system. The CCRMAS will serve four roughly equal geographic districts, each with a mutual aid coordinator to manage mutual aid plans for fire and emergency responders, and to coordinate mutual aid requests. The system must also maintain a state coordination center responsible for the overall management of regional and statewide mutual aid systems, and to oversee district coordinators.

The bill modifies the mutual aid statutes to require that an emergency response agency requested to assist another response agency retain operational control over its resources and retain liability over actions of its crews, while serving under the direction of the incident commander of the requesting agency.

Beginning FY 2022-23, the state treasurer must transfer any money in the aviation resources line of the annual general appropriations act (the Long Bill) that would otherwise revert to the General Fund into the Wildfire Preparedness Fund to be used for traditional mitigation efforts, staffing, equipment, and other purposes determined by the division to maximize spending impacts. The division must report to the Joint Budget Committee at least every three years the amounts transferred and spent.

State Transfers and Diversions

Wildfire Preparedness Fund. Beginning FY 2022-23, the treasurer must transfer unspent money from the aviation resources line of the Long Bill to the Wildfire Preparedness Fund, which will divert money that would otherwise revert to the General Fund. The amount of this diversion has not been estimated.

State Expenditures

The bill increases state expenditures in the DPS by $1,190,255 and 6.4 FTE in FY 2021-22, and by $1,107,080 and 7.0 FTE in FY 2022-23 to create and maintain the CCRMAS. Administrative expenses continue in subsequent years. Administrative expenses of the mutual aid system are displayed in Table 2 and described below.

¹ Centrally appropriated costs are not included in the bill's appropriation.

Mutual aid system. The Division of Fire Prevention and Control will employ four district mutual aid coordinators and three central coordinating staff to operate the CCRMAS. New staff costs include standard operating and capital expenses, additional health benefits pursuant to Senate Bill 20-057, vehicle and travel expenses, training, equipment, and communications. The division will also purchase a mutual aid software package with annual license and maintenance costs. New costs are from the General Fund.

Centrally appropriated costs. Pursuant to a Joint Budget Committee policy, certain costs associated with this bill are addressed through the annual budget process and centrally appropriated in the Long Bill or supplemental appropriations bills, rather than in this bill. These costs, which include employee insurance, supplemental employee retirement payments, and leased space are estimated to be $156,755 in FY 2021-22, and $171,307 in FY 2022-23.

Local Government

Since rapidly expanding emergency situations and long event durations can overwhelm local resources, state assistance with coordination and resource mobilization will be available during an emergency incident's initial stages, potentially increasing operations efficiency and response success for local emergency responders and local governments. This could potentially help local governments avoid costs that would otherwise occur without such state-level assistance.
