if they furnish or administer an opiate antagonist in good faith, in addition to other requirements.

Under current law, a school district, the state charter school institute, or the governing board of a nonpublic school may adopt a policy for a school to maintain a supply of and distribute non-laboratory synthetic opiate detection tests. The bill allows the adoption of a similar policy for non-laboratory additive detection tests and extends existing civil immunity provisions to include non-laboratory additive detection tests.

The bill requires a school, school district, or the state charter school institute to allow a student to possess or administer on school grounds, on a school bus, or at any school-sponsored event an opiate antagonist and possess a non-laboratory synthetic opiate detection test or a non-laboratory additive detection test.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

2 SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly
3 finds that:

4 (a) Fentanyl, a synthetic opiate painkiller, is killing people who 5 did not know they were consuming it. These deaths are known as fentanyl 6 poisonings.

7 (b) Fentanyl is the most common cause of opiate deaths in the 8 United States;

9 (c) Colorado's drug overdose rate increased fifty percent from 10 May 2019 to May 2021. This is consistent with the national drug 11 overdose rate trend.

12 (d) In 2018, less than ten percent of Colorado's drug overdoses 13 involved fentanyl. In 2021, approximately forty-eight percent of 14 Colorado's drug overdoses involved fentanyl.

15 (e) Fentanyl is approximately one hundred times stronger than 16 morphine and approximately fifty times stronger than heroin. A person 17 can overdose on approximately two milligrams of fentanyl.

1 (f) A variety of drugs, including cocaine, ecstasy, and pills made 2 to look like prescription narcotics, are being laced with fentanyl and 3 causing fentanyl poisonings;

4 (g) Colorado's students are increasingly vulnerable to opiate 5 overdoses as the opiate epidemic continues to plague our state and 6 country. This threat can be significantly decreased by providing to 7 students and parents greater education about the threat of opiates and 8 greater education about and access to opiate antagonists and detection
9 products. Availability of and access to opiate antagonists and detection 10 products enable immediate and effective response in the case of an 11 overdose.

12 (h) It is imperative to provide students with the knowledge, tools, 13 and skills to save their lives and their peers' lives. It is imperative to 14 create connections and communication opportunities with parents and 15 school personnel.

16 (i) People who attend educational harm reduction programs are 17 more likely to voluntarily enter addiction treatment programming; and

18 (j) Under current state law, a school district may establish a policy 19 to maintain a supply of opiate antagonists and allow staff to administer an 20 opiate antagonist to a person experiencing an opiate-related drug 21 overdose if the staff has received training. Current state law also allows 22 broad allowances for the general public to administer an opiate antagonist 23 to a person who is experiencing an opiate-related drug overdose.

24 (2) The general assembly declares it is necessary to build upon the 25 successes of current state law that make opiate antagonists and detection 26 tests available, to create greater accessibility to life-saving tools, and to 27 create greater knowledge for students and parents to save lives and reduce

1 stigmas.

2 SECTION 2. In Colorado Revised Statutes, 22-1-119.1, amend
