CONCERNING RESTRICTIONS ON NONDISCLOSURE AGREEMENTS THAT AFFECT GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds and declares that:

(a) (I) Government employees, including employees of the state, counties, cities and counties, municipalities, school districts, and any department, institution, or agency of any such government, are public servants who are hired to undertake their job duties and responsibilities to serve the public;

Capital letters or bold & italic numbers indicate new material added to existing law; dashes through words or numbers indicate deletions from existing law and such material is not part of the act.

(II) Government employees are paid with public money, and they and their employers are accountable to the public for the manner in which they carry out their public duties and responsibilities;

(III) The public has a fundamental interest in transparency concerning the conduct of government, including state government, county government, city and county government, municipal government, and school district government. From the free speech provisions of its founding constitution to the enactment of laws requiring that meetings be conducted in an open manner and that public records be broadly disclosed, the state of Colorado has been at the forefront of efforts to ensure that the formation of public policy is public business that may not be conducted in secret. These constitutional and statutory requirements are intended to provide the public with as much knowledge as possible about how public business is being conducted while it is being conducted;

(IV) Nondisclosure agreements imposed on applicants for government employment, government employees, and past government employees that effectively prohibit such applicants and employees from disclosing details about their prospective, current, or past government service obstruct these fundamental principles of government transparency and public accountability. The details of public business should not be hidden from public view by means of nondisclosure agreements imposed on such applicants or employees as a condition of their hiring or employment or in connection with their leaving government service or their past government service; and

(V) In the absence of legitimate concerns about the protection of the privacy interests of applicants for government employment, government employees, and past government employees, or to protect against disclosure matters that are truly confidential and sensitive to the public interest, neither the state nor any of its departments, institutions, or agencies should be permitted to silence such applicants and employees from being able to speak openly about their prospective, current, or past government service through the imposition of nondisclosure agreements. Such applicants and employees should ordinarily be permitted to speak openly about their prospective, current, or past government service.

(b) By enacting this act, the general assembly intends to restrict the ability of a government, including the state, a county, a city and county, a municipality, or a school district, or any department, institution, or agency of a government, from requiring applicants for employment or employees to enter into nondisclosure agreements as a condition of their being hired. Nor may such a government, department, institution, or agency insist upon the enforcement of a nondisclosure agreement when or after an employee ends their employment with the government, department, institution, or agency. The general assembly intends that, absent the presence of very select circumstances, enforcement of such nondisclosure agreements be prohibited and that such nondisclosure agreements be deemed void as against public policy and of no legal force and effect. The general assembly further intends that this act be liberally construed to further the fundamental principle that state government be conducted in public to the greatest extent possible; and

(c) Transparency concerning the conduct of government is a matter of statewide concern and, therefore, the provisions of this act apply to all counties, cities and counties, municipalities, and school districts including home rule counties, cities and counties, and municipalities.
