real property that runs with the land.

Prohibitions on new transfer fee covenants and liens

The bill prohibits any covenant recorded on or after July 1, 2011, or any lien recorded on or after July 1, 2011, to the extent that it purports to secure the payment of a fee, from being, upon conveyance, binding on or enforceable against the affected real property or from being payable for the right to make or accept such conveyance. The bill also prohibits any covenant or lien from being binding on or enforceable against any subsequent owner, purchaser, or holder of any mortgage, deed of trust, or other security interest encumbering the affected real property. The bill makes any person who records, or causes or suffers to be recorded, a covenant on or after July 1, 2011, liable for actual damages and attorney fees, expenses, and costs under circumstances specified in the bill.

Existing residential transfer fee covenants

In the case of any covenant, or any amendment to such covenant, recorded prior to July 1, 2011, the bill requires a person or entity to whom a fee is to be paid (payee), as a condition of payment of the fee, to record against the residential real property burdened by the covenant, in the office of the county clerk and recorder for the county in which the residential real property is situated, not later than October 1, 2011, a notice of transfer fee (notice). The bill specifies the required elements of the notice.

If the payee fails to comply fully with the requirements of the bill concerning the notice, the grantor of any residential real property burdened by the covenant may proceed with the conveyance to any grantee and in doing so shall be deemed to have acted in good faith and shall not be subject to any obligations under the covenant. All conveyances thereafter shall be free and clear of any such fee and covenant.

Written statement of transfer fee payable and affidavit

Upon written request made by the owner, or the owner's designee, delivered personally or by certified mail, first-class postage prepaid, return receipt requested, to the payee's address shown on the notice of transfer fee or any amendment to the notice, the bill requires the payee to furnish to the owner or the owner's designee a written statement specifying the amount of the transfer fee payable. If the payee fails to provide such statement within 30 days after the date a written request for the same is sent in order to obtain a release of such fee, then the owner or the owner's designee, on recording of the affidavit required by the bill, may convey any interest in the residential real property to any grantee without payment of the fee and such conveyance shall not be subject to the fee and covenant.

The bill requires an affidavit, executed under penalty of perjury, satisfying certain requirements specified in the bill to be recorded prior to, simultaneously with, or within 45 days after a deed or other instrument conveying the interest in the residential real property burdened by the covenant is recorded in the office of the county clerk and recorder in the county in which the residential real property is situated. The bill specifies the evidence the affidavit shall support and the required contents of the affidavit.
