SUMMARY

I have been working as an early childhood education professional for over thirty years as an administrator, manager, and teacher. I thrive in environments that are cutting edge, fluid, and communicative where the goal is to provide excellent service.

EXPERIENCE

Consultant, National Children's Center, Washington, D.C.

(2016 – Present)

National Children's Center (NCC) provides comprehensive services to children and youth with disabilities and their families. As an Early Childhood Education Consultant, I provide expertise in the areas of management, Teaching and Learning, human resources, and compliance to the organization's multi-disciplinary administration team during the reorganization of the Early Learning Center (the largest inclusion program in the District of Columbia).

Adjunct Faculty, Trinity Washington University, Department of Education, Washington, D.C.

(2014-Present)

Trinity Washington University is recognized as a comprehensive institution that offers a wide-range of education programs for an inter-generational population. I provide undergraduate and graduate level educational experiences inclusive of lectures; and the development of writing activities designed for students to synthesize and analyze reading/instructional material.

Teacher, District of Columbia Public Schools, Early Childhood Education, Washington, D.C.

(2010-2014 & 1991 -2000)

I analyzed and interpreted data from an online assessment program in order to develop targeted plans for students based on their individualized needs. I served as the Grade Level Chair; and was elected by my colleagues to serve on the Personnel Committee. During my 1991-2000 tenure I also served as the Secretary of the Local School Restructuring Team and a site Demonstration Teacher.

Manager, Education Service Area, District of Columbia Public Schools, Head Start Program/Early Childhood Education, Washington, D.C.

(2001-2014)

For over thirty years the District of Columbia Public Schools has provided full-day early childhood education options to families. I coordinated daily operations of 36 Head Start/Early Childhood classrooms located in 20 DC Public Schools. In this position I interacted with multiple stakeholders in the Early Childhood Education community inclusive of parents, students, teachers, principals, community based program administrators and staff, and union representatives. This position also provided an opportunity for me to strengthen my data analytical skills via implementing and analyzing internal audits and child outcomes/assessments ensuring compliance with federal Head Start performance standards.

Special Education Mentor Teacher, District of Columbia Public Schools, Head Start Program, Washington, D.C. (2000-2001)

I provided differentiated staff development and support in Early Childhood Special Education to General Education Teachers working in inclusive classrooms. I also served as a specialist during school level and community based IEP and/or Multi-Disciplinary meetings and hearings.

Education Specialist (Diagnostic Prescriptive), District of Columbia Commission on Mental Health Services, Department of Human Services, Washington, D.C. (1987 – 1991)

I implemented daily Psychoeducation Diagnostic Prescriptive Special Education experiences to Seriously Emotionally Impaired Early Childhood aged children and their families. I also collaborated with a multi-disciplinary team inclusive of a Psychiatrist, Psychologist, Clinical Social Worker, Speech Pathologist, and Paraprofessional providing recommendations based on analysis of data from assessments and daily work with students.

Family Services Specialist-Program Assistant II, Department of Human Resources, Montgomery County Government, Rockville, MD (1986-1987)

I designed and implemented activities for the parent services component of Montgomery County Maryland's first locally funded Child Care Subsidy Program. I was the liaison between families and state and/or local agencies; and between the program and other county and community based agencies or organizations.
