SUMMARY ANALYSIS

Generally, a social media platform is a computer-based technology that facilitates the sharing of ideas, thoughts, and information through virtual networks and communities. Social media use by children can have negative effects on their wellbeing, and studies have found a link between child social media use and poor mental health.

To attempt to reduce such effects on kids, Utah, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Ohio recently enacted laws to require social media platforms to verify user age and require parental consent for minors to have an account.

HB 1, to which this bill is linked, requires social media platforms to:

- Verify the age of a person wishing to open a new account;
- Prohibit minors under 16 years of age from creating a new account; and
- Implement certain Internet safety measures for minors under 18 years of age.

The Department of Legal Affairs (DLA), upon belief that any social media platform is in violation of the provisions of HB 1, may bring an action under the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act. A private cause of action is permitted in certain limited circumstances.

This bill provides that all information received by DLA pursuant to a notification or investigation by DLA or a law enforcement agency of a violation is confidential and exempt from public record requirements. The bill provides that the information may be released by DLA during an active investigation only:

- In the furtherance of its official duties and responsibilities;
- For print, publication, or broadcast to notify the public of a data breach; or
- To another governmental entity in the furtherance of the receiving entity's official duties and responsibilities.

Once an investigation is completed, the following information remains confidential and exempt:

- All information to which another public record exemption applies;
- Personal information;
- A computer forensic report;
- Information that would otherwise reveal weaknesses in data security; and
- Information that would otherwise disclose proprietary information.

The bill provides that the public record exemption is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act and will repeal on October 2, 2029, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature. It also includes a statement of public necessity as required by the Florida Constitution.

Article I, s. 24(c) of the Florida Constitution requires a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting for final passage of a newly created or expanded public record exemption. The bill creates a public record exemption; thus, it requires a two-thirds vote for final passage.

FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Present Situation

Public Records

The Florida Constitution sets forth the state's public policy regarding access to government records, guaranteeing every person a right to inspect or copy any public record of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of government.¹ The Legislature, however, may provide by general law an exemption² from public record requirements provided the exemption passes by a two-thirds vote of each chamber, states with specificity the public necessity justifying the exemption, and is no broader than necessary to meet its public purpose.³

Current law also addresses the public policy regarding access to government records by guaranteeing every person a right to inspect and copy any state, county, or municipal record, unless the record is exempt.⁴ Furthermore, the Open Government Sunset Review (OGSR) Act⁵ provides that a public record exemption may be created or maintained only if it serves an identifiable public purpose and the "Legislature finds that the purpose is sufficiently compelling to override the strong public policy of open government and that cannot be accomplished without the exemption."⁶ An identifiable public purpose is served if the exemption meets one of the following purposes:

- Allow the state or its political subdivisions to effectively and efficiently administer a governmental program, which administration would be significantly impaired without the exemption;
- Protect sensitive personal information that, if released, would be defamatory or would jeopardize an individual's safety; however, only the identity of an individual may be exempted under this provision; or
- Protect trade or business secrets.⁷

Pursuant to the OGSR Act, a new public record exemption, or the substantial amendment of an existing public record exemption, is repealed on October 2nd of the fifth year following enactment, unless the Legislature reenacts the exemption.⁸

Social Media and Kids

Generally, a social media platform is a computer-based technology that facilitates the sharing of ideas, thoughts, and information through virtual networks and communities. Social media is Internet-based and gives users quick electronic communication of content, such as personal information, videos, and photos. Users engage with social media via a computer, tablet, or smartphone via web-based software or applications.⁹

² A "public record exemption" means a provision of general law which provides that a specified record, or portion thereof, is not subject to the access requirements of s. 119.07(1), F.S., or s. 24, Art. I of the Florida Constitution. See s. 119.011(8), F.S.

Social media use by children can have negative effects on their health.¹⁰ Some potential safety risks of social media use include:

- Exposure to harmful or inappropriate content;
- Exposure to dangerous people;
- Cyberbullying;
- Oversharing personal information;
- Exposure to excessive advertisements;
- Privacy concerns, including the collection of data about minors;
- Identity theft or being hacked; and
- Interference with sleep, exercise, homework, or family activities.¹¹

Additionally, a 2022 study conducted by social media and psychology scholars found a link between social media use and poor mental health, especially among girls.¹² Such study demonstrated that girls experience a consistent and substantial association between mental health and social media use, and such associations were stronger than links between mental health and binge drinking, sexual assault, obesity, and hard drug use.¹³

To attempt to reduce such effects on kids, Utah, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Ohio recently enacted laws to require social media platforms to verify user age and require parental consent for minors to have an account.¹⁴

Department of Legal Affairs

The Department of Legal Affairs (DLA) provides a wide variety of legal services, including defending the state in civil litigation cases, representing the people of Florida in criminal appeals in state and federal courts, protecting rights of children, consumers, and victims through its various protection programs, and investigating and litigating against businesses that seek to limit competition and defraud taxpayers.¹⁵

House Bill 1 (2024)

HB 1, to which this bill is linked, requires social media platforms to:

- Verify the age of a person wishing to open a new account;
- Prohibit minors under 16 years of age from creating a new account; and
- Implement certain Internet safety measures for minors under 18 years of age.

DLA, upon belief that a social media platform is in violation of the bill, may bring an action under the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act.¹⁶ A private cause of action is permitted in certain limited circumstances.

Effect of Proposed Changes

The bill creates a public record exemption for all information received by DLA pursuant to a notification or an investigation by DLA or a law enforcement agency of a violation by a social media platform of the requirements created by HB 1. Such information is made confidential and exempt¹⁷ from public record requirements until the investigation is completed or is no longer active.¹⁸

During an active investigation, the confidential and exempt information may be disclosed by DLA:

- In the furtherance of its official duties and responsibilities;
- For print, publication, or broadcast if DLA determines that such release would assist in notifying the public or locating or identifying a person DLA believes to be a victim of a data breach or improper use or disposal of customer records, except that information which remains confidential and exempt after an investigation may not be released in this manner; or
- To another governmental entity in the furtherance of the receiving entity's official duties and responsibilities.

Once an investigation is completed or ceases to be active, the following information received by DLA remains confidential and exempt:

- All information to which another public record exemption applies;
- Personal information;
- A computer forensic report;
- Information that would otherwise reveal weaknesses in a social media platform's data security; and
- Information that would otherwise disclose a social media platform's proprietary information.¹⁹

The bill provides the constitutionally required public necessity statement, which states that, if released, information received by DLA pursuant to a notification or an investigation by DLA or a law enforcement agency could:

- Frustrate or thwart the investigation and impair the ability of DLA to perform assigned functions;
- Undo a specific statutory exemption protecting the information;
- Be used for the purpose of identity theft;
- Result in the identification of vulnerabilities; and
- Result in economic harm.

¹⁶ Part II of Ch. 501, F.S. is known as the "Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act." S. 501.201, F.S. The Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act is a consumer and business protection measure that prohibits unfair methods of competition, unconscionable acts or practices, and unfair or deceptive acts or practices in trade or commerce. S. 501.202, F.S.

¹⁷ There is a difference between records the Legislature designates exempt from public record requirements and those the Legislature designates confidential and exempt. A record classified as exempt from public disclosure may be disclosed under certain circumstances. See WFTV, Inc. v. Sch. Bd. of Seminole, 874 So.2d 48, 53 (Fla. 5th DCA 2004), review denied, 892 So.2d 1015 (Fla. 2004); State v. Wooten, 260 So.3d 1060, 1070 (Fla. 4th DCA 2018); City of Rivera Beach v. Barfield, 642 So.2d 1135 (Fla. 4th DCA 1994); Williams v. City of Minneola, 575 So.2d 683, 687 (Fla. 5th DCA 1991). If the Legislature designates a record as confidential and exempt from public disclosure, such record may not be released by the custodian of public records to anyone other than the persons or entities specifically designated in statute. See Op. Att'y Gen. Fla. 04-09 (2004).

¹⁸ The bill states that the public record exemption should be construed in conformity with s. 119.071(2)(c), F.S. Section 119.071(2)(c), F.S., creates an exemption for active criminal investigative and criminal intelligence information. Section 119.011(3), F.S., defines the terms "criminal intelligence information," "criminal investigative information," and "active."

¹⁹ The bill defines the term "proprietary information" to mean information that is owned or controlled by the social media platform; is intended to be private and is treated by the social media platform as private because disclosure would harm the social media platform or its business operations; has not been disclosed except as required by law or through a private agreement that provides that the information will not be released to the public; is not publicly available or otherwise readily ascertainable through proper means from another source in the same configuration as received by DLA; and includes trade secrets, as defined in s. 688.002, F.S., and competitive interests.

The bill provides that the public record exemption is subject to the OGSR Act and will repeal on October 2, 2029, unless reenacted by the Legislature.

The bill will become effective on the same date that HB 1 or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session, or an extension thereof, and becomes a law.

B. SECTION DIRECTORY:

Section 1: Amends s. 501.1736, F.S., as created by HB 1 (2024), to create a public record exemption for investigations related to s. 501.1736, F.S.

Section 2: Provides a public necessity statement as required by the Florida Constitution.

Section 3: Provides a contingent effective date.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

A. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE GOVERNMENT:

1. Revenues:

None.

2. Expenditures:

See Fiscal Comments.

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

1. Revenues:

None.

2. Expenditures:

None.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

None.

D. FISCAL COMMENTS:

The bill may have a minimal fiscal impact on DLA because agency staff responsible for complying with public record requests may require training related to the creation of the public record exemption. DLA could incur costs associated with redacting the confidential and exempt information prior to releasing a record. The costs, however, would be absorbed by existing resources, as they are part of the day-to-day responsibilities of agencies.

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

Not applicable. The bill does not appear to affect county or municipal governments.

2. Other:

Vote Requirement

Article I, s. 24(c) of the Florida Constitution requires a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting for final passage of a newly created or expanded public record or public meeting exemption. The bill creates a public record exemption; thus, it requires a two-thirds vote for final passage.

Public Necessity Statement

Article I, s. 24(c) of the Florida Constitution requires a public necessity statement for a newly created or expanded public record or public meeting exemption. The bill creates a public record exemption; thus, it includes a public necessity statement. The public necessity statement provides that, if released, information received by DLA pursuant to a notification or an investigation could frustrate or thwart the investigation and impair the ability of DLA to perform assigned functions, undo a specific statutory exemption protecting the information, be used for the purpose of identity theft, result in the identification of vulnerabilities, and result in economic harm.

Breadth of Exemption

Article I, s. 24(c) of the Florida Constitution requires a newly created or expanded public record or public meeting exemption to be no broader than necessary to accomplish the stated purpose of the law. The bill creates a public record exemption for sensitive investigative materials and personal information, which does not appear to be broader than necessary to accomplish its purpose.

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

The bill does not require rulemaking, nor does the bill confer or alter DLA's rulemaking authority.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS:

None.

IV. AMENDMENTS/COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE CHANGES

None.
