Honorable Chair Rhoads, Vice-Chair Gabbard, and Members of the Committee on Judiciary. The County of Hawai'i, Office of the Prosecuting Attorney submits the following testimony in support of House Bill No. 111

This bill was drafted with the intent to authorize civil claims to be made against a person, business, business owner, or business operator that profits from sexual exploitation or sex trafficking. Extends the statute of limitations for civil claims related to sexual exploitation or sex trafficking to ten years.

House Bill 111 takes crucial steps toward creating a legal framework that better supports victims, holds perpetrators accountable, and prevents further exploitation. Sexual exploitation is a devastating crime that not only strips individuals of their autonomy but also inflicts long-lasting physical, emotional, and psychological harm.

Allowing civil claims to be made against individuals or businesses that profit from sex trafficking and sexual exploitation is an essential step toward ensuring that those who facilitate these crimes are held legally responsible. This measure will create an avenue for survivors to seek justice and recover damages for the suffering they have endured. Extending the statute of limitations to ten years for civil claims related to sexual exploitation will provide the necessary time for survivors, who may take years to heal, to seek reparations.

In conclusion, HB 111 represents a necessary step toward dismantling the systems that enable sexual exploitation. This bill supports those who have suffered from these crimes, particularly those from vulnerable communities, and sends a clear message that we stand firm against sexual exploitation in our state.

The County of Hawai‘i, Office of the Prosecuting Attorney is dedicated to pursuing justice with integrity and commitment. By passing this bill, we will send a strong message that Hawai‘i will not tolerate the exploitation of the most vulnerable, and we will actively work to protect and support survivors of sexual exploitation. For these reasons, the County of Hawai‘i, Office of the Prosecuting Attorney supports the passage of House Bill No. 111. Thank you for the opportunity to testify on this matter.

HB 111, RELATING TO SEX TRAFFICKING

MARCH 11, 2025 · JDC HEARING

POSITION: Support.

RATIONALE: Imua Alliance supports HB 111, relating to sex trafficking, which authorizes civil claims to be made against a person, business, business owner, or business operator that profits from sexual exploitation or sex trafficking; and extends the statute of limitations for civil claims related to sexual exploitation or sex trafficking to ten years.

Imua Alliance is a victim service provider for survivors of sex trafficking. Over the past 15 years, we have provided comprehensive direct intervention services to over 200 victims, successfully emancipating them from slavery and assisting in their restoration, while providing a range of targeted services to over 1,000 victims and individuals at risk of sexual exploitation. During the pandemic, demand for victim services to our organization has skyrocketed by 330 percent, driven in part by a fivefold increase in direct crisis calls from potential trafficking victims.

Each of the victims we have assisted has suffered from complex and overlapping trauma, including post-traumatic stress disorder, depression and anxiety, dissociation, parasuicidal behavior, and substance abuse. Trafficking-related trauma can lead to a complete loss of identity. A victim we cared for in 2016, for example, had become so heavily trauma bonded to her pimp that while under his grasp, she couldn't remember her own name. Yet, sadly, many of the victims with whom we work are misidentified as so-called "voluntary prostitutes" and are subsequently arrested and incarcerated, with no financial resources from which to pay for their release.

Sex trafficking is a profoundly violent crime. At least 23 percent of trafficking victims in Hawai'i report being first exploited before turning 18, according to a recent report, with the average age of trafficked keiki's initial exposure to exploitation being 11. Based on regular outreach and monitoring, we estimate that approximately 150 high-risk sex trafficking establishments operate in Hawai'i. In a recent report conducted by the State Commission on the Status of Women, researchers from Arizona State University found that 1 in every 11 adult males living in our state buys sex online. When visitors are also counted, that number worsens to 1 in every 7 men walking the streets of our island home and a daily online sex buyer market of 18,614 for O'ahu and a total sex buyer population for the island of 74,362, including both tourists and residents.

ASU's findings are grim, but not surprising to local organizations that provide services to survivors of sex trafficking. Imua Alliance, for example, has trained volunteers to perform outreach to victims in high-risk locations, like strip clubs, massage parlors, and hostess bars. More than 80 percent of runaway youth report being approached for sexual exploitation while on the run, over 30 percent of whom are targeted within the first 48 hours of leaving home. With regard to mental health, sex trafficking victims are twice as likely to suffer from PTSD as a soldier in a war zone.

Greater than 80 percent of victims report being repeatedly raped and 95 percent report being physically assaulted, numbers that are underreported, according to the United States Department of State and numerous trauma specialists, because of the inability of many victims to recognize sexual violence. As one underage survivor told Imua Alliance prior to being rescued, "I can't be raped. Only good girls can be raped. I'm a bad girl. If I want to be raped, I have to earn it."

Accordingly, we support measures to advance our state's fight against sexual servitude, including this bill's effort to empower survivors to pursue civil claims against businesses that willingly turn a blind eye to exploitation that happens on their premises. Too often, the owners and operators of such businesses are allowed to escape culpability for their role in facilitating sex trafficking, as they overlook exploitation to pad their profit margins.

HB 111 - Prostitution; Sexual Exploitation; Sex Trafficking; Civil Claims

TESTIMONY

Stephen Munkelt, Legislative Committee, League of Women Voters of Hawaii

Chair Rhoads, Vice Chair Gabbard, and Committee Members:

The League of Women Voters of Hawaii supports BILL NUMBER HB 111

This bill clarifies and expands the definitions of sexual exploitation and sex trafficking as they apply to grounds for a civil suit against persons who have benefitted from exploitation or trafficking. It also makes adjustments to the statute of limitations which allow more time for claimants to file suit.

The League of Women Voters opposes all forms of domestic and international human trafficking of adults and children, including sex trafficking and labor trafficking. The League also believes victims of exploitation should be provided support and resources to assist their recovery from that harm. HB 111 provides a means for victims to seek compensation from exploiters, which can promote healing. HB 111 also expands the potential consequences to exploiters as a deterrent to engaging in these activities. For these reasons the League of Women Voters of Hawaii supports HB 111.

Thank you for the opportunity to submit testimony.

Please pass H.B. 111.

Tagnawa is an environmental disaster response and recovery organization focused on the intersection of Filipino wellbeing and women's rights. Research shows that environmental catastrophes increase the risk of sex trafficking to fire survivors. This bill, if passed, would create an important deterrent to exploitation of fire survivors and a route to accountability and healing for victims without relying on and burdening the criminal justice system.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify in support of H.B. 111.

Subject: Imperative Support for H.B. No. 428 – Strengthening Food Security and Protecting Women and Children

To: Honorable Members of the State of Hawaii Legislature
From: Ohana Unity Party, Chairman Shelby "Pikachu" Billionaire
Date: March 10, 2025

Dear Honorable Members of the State of Hawaii Legislature,

I write to convey resolute support for House Bill No. 428 (H.B. No. 428), "Relating to Farm to Families," introduced in the Thirty-Third Legislature, 2025. This legislation stands as a critical instrument to address the dire food insecurity plaguing one in three households across our state, with a disproportionate toll on women and children—our most vulnerable citizens. The Hawaii Farm to Families Program offers a strategic solution to deliver nourishment, bolster local agriculture, and fortify our economy. However, its success hinges on robust funding and decisive action to dismantle illegal smuggling operations at our ports, which exacerbate hunger and threaten the safety of our communities. I urge you to adopt this bill with the amendments outlined below to protect Hawaii's women and children and secure our state's future.

The Urgent Need to Protect Women and Children

The statistics are alarming: 30% of Hawaii's children endure food insecurity, facing heightened risks of developmental setbacks, mental health crises, and chronic illness, while over 40% of Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander households—often led by women—struggle to put food on the table. Women, as primary caregivers, bear the emotional and physical burden of hunger, sacrificing their own well-being to shield their families. This crisis is not merely economic; it is a profound threat to the health, safety, and dignity of our most vulnerable populations.

H.B. No. 428 confronts this emergency by funding food banks to distribute fresh, Hawaii-grown produce—nutritious staples like kalo and breadfruit—to those in need. The Hawaii Foodbank's $11 million investment over five years yielded a $19 million economic boost, proving the viability of this approach. Yet, illegal smuggling at our ports undermines these efforts, flooding our markets with substandard imports, driving up costs, and jeopardizing the livelihoods of local farmers who sustain our families. To protect women and children, we must pair this bill with a funded offensive against these illicit operations.

Proposed Amendments for Comprehensive Impact

To maximize H.B. No. 428's effectiveness and safeguard our communities, I recommend the following enhancements:

1. Immediate Implementation: Amend the effective date from July 1, 3000—a clear oversight—to July 1, 2025, ensuring swift relief for women and children facing hunger today.
2. Robust Funding Commitment: Appropriate $7 million annually for fiscal years 2025-2026 and 2026-2027, with $5 million allocated to food bank operations and $2 million dedicated to port enforcement. This additional funding will enhance inspections, surveillance, and law enforcement coordination to dismantle smuggling networks, protecting local food systems that sustain families. The Department of Agriculture should retain flexibility to adjust future appropriations based on program outcomes.
3. Prioritize Vulnerable Populations: Mandate that food banks target high-need areas—rural communities and regions with significant Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander populations, where women and children are hardest hit. Ensure culturally vital foods like kalo are prioritized to nourish families in alignment with Hawaii's traditions.
4. Support Local Producers: Establish grants and technical assistance for farmers, alongside minimum purchase commitments from food banks, to stabilize their operations. This strengthens the supply chain that feeds our children and supports women-led agricultural households.
5. Combat Port Smuggling: Add a provision directing the Department of Transportation, in collaboration with law enforcement, to utilize the $2 million annual appropriation to intensify port security measures—deploying inspectors, advanced monitoring systems, and targeted operations to eradicate illegal food smuggling. These efforts will shield our local economy and ensure safe, reliable food access for families.
6. Enhanced Oversight: Expand the mandated reports (due prior to the 2026 and 2027 sessions) to include data on households served (with a focus on women and children), economic benefits, enforcement actions against smuggling, and feedback from farmers and community stakeholders. This transparency will guide sustained investment in our families' well-being.
7. Phased Execution: Initiate the program as a pilot in two counties (e.g., Hawaii and Maui) in 2025-2026—areas with acute needs among women and children—then expand statewide, integrating lessons learned and scaling port enforcement accordingly.

A Mandate to Safeguard Our Future

H.B. No. 428 is more than a policy—it is a moral obligation to protect Hawaii's women and children from the twin scourges of hunger and exploitation. Illegal smuggling at our ports not only destabilizes our food supply but also perpetuates a cycle of deprivation that disproportionately harms our most vulnerable. By fully funding this bill and cracking down on these criminal enterprises, we can deliver immediate relief, empower local agriculture, and build a resilient Hawaii where every child eats, every mother rests easier, and every family thrives.

I implore you to pass H.B. No. 428 with these amendments, signaling an unwavering commitment to our state's families. I stand ready to provide testimony or further assistance—please contact me at [your email/phone, if applicable].

Respectfully,
Master Shelby Pikachu Billionaire

Ohana Unity Party, Chairman

& Kingdom of The Hawaiian Islands
