DIGEST
2024 Regular Session

Seabaugh

Present law prohibits a state legislator or their principal or subsidiary committee from accepting or depositing a contribution, loan, or transfer of funds or accepting or using any in-kind contribution during a regular legislative session.

Proposed law retains present law but provides an exception to allow acceptance of the prohibited donations during a regular session held during the calendar year in which the legislator is either seeking reelection or election to the opposite house of the legislature from which they serve.

Proposed law further requires that any donation valued at over $1,000 that is accepted, deposited, or transferred pursuant to the exception enumerated in proposed law must be reported to the supervisory committee within 30 days of its receipt.

Effective August 1, 2024.
