The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year Two Thousand Eleven

An Act relative to the leasing of publicly owned land for agricultural purposes..

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

- 1 SECTION 16 of chapter 30B of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following 2 subsection:-
- 3 (j) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 12 of this chapter, and further notwithstanding any 4 contrary provision of any law or the provisions of any charter, a state, regional or municipal 5 government body may enter into leases for the rental of conservation land for agricultural 6 purposes, or other municipally-owned or otherwise publicly-owned land for agricultural 7 purposes, subject to the approval, in the case of municipally-owned land, of t he city council or 8 board of selectmen or town council in towns with a town council form of government and with 9 the consent of the board or agency with jurisdiction over said lands, for a lease period not to

10 exceed ten years if the lessor demonstrates to the satisfaction of said board or agency and the 11 city council or board of selectmen or town council in towns with a town council form of 12 government that a significant capital investment has been or will be made by the lessor for the 13 purposes of increasing the productivity and agricultural value of said land. No document 14 transferring care, custody, control, and management of any property leased under the provision 15 of this section shall be valid unless such document provides that said property shall be used so 16 lely for agricultural purposes and the capital investment required under this section is made by 17 the lessee. The document shall include a reversionary clause that stipulates that the property 18 will revert to the lessor in the event that the leased property ceases to be used for agricultural 19 purposes or if the capital investment required by the document of transfer is not timely made. In 20 the case of conservation land, the proceeds of any such lease permitted under this section shall 21 be used by the lessor to own for conservation improvements to achieve no net loss in lands which 22 were acquired for the purposes stated in article 97 of the Amendments of the Constitution.
