

SENATE No. 02166

Senate, March 8, 2012 – New draft of Senate, No. 1190 reported from the committee on Public Safety and Homeland Security.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year Two Thousand Twelve

An Act relative to certain tanks used for the storage of fluids.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1. . Section 37 of chapter 148 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2010
2 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the second paragraph and inserting in place
3 thereof the following paragraph:-

4 The marshal shall establish rules and regulations providing for an inspection of tanks or 5 containers on an annual basis or at such other frequency as determined by the marshal. In 6 determining such frequency the marshal may consider such factors, including but not limited to,
7 tank size, type of construction, tank contents, potential safety hazards, and tank safety and 8 containment systems. The inspection fee shall be determined annually by the commissioner of 9 administration under section 3B of chapter 7. The rules and regulations shall require owners or 10 operators to maintain the tanks or containers and to keep records of inspections, repairs and 11 maintenance for each tank or container in a form as prescribed by the marshal. The marshal may 12 establish or adopt inspection standards or parts thereof for tanks and containers and

13 qualifications for those persons authorized to conduct inspections under this section. In addition 14 to the inspections required by regulation, the marshal may, at any time during reasonable 15 business hours, inspect the premises' tanks or containers, dikes, facilities, equipment and records 16 to determine compliance with this section or related regulation.
