(b) The joint underwriting association, formed pursuant to chapter 175C, and each insurer licensed to write and engaged in the writing of homeowners' insurance shall provide the following coverage to residential owners to whom a homeowners' insurance policy is issued or renewed: (1) first party property coverage for response action costs incurred under chapters 21E or 21K, or regulations promulgated pursuant thereto and property damage on the insured's property caused by or in response to a release of heating oil from a residential liquid fuel tank or any piping, fuel supply lines, equipment or systems connected thereto; and (2) liability coverage for third party claims arising out of a release of heating oil into the environment. Minimum coverage of $75,000 per occurrence for first party property subject to a reasonable deductible not to exceed $1,000 per claim and minimum coverage of $250,000 per occurrence for third party liability shall be provided. For the purposes of this section, first party property coverage shall include response action costs incurred to assess and remediate a heating oil release impacting soil, indoor air or other environmental media on the insured's property. Third party liability coverage shall include the obligation to defend the insured at the insurer's expense against third party claims, and such defense obligation shall include coverage for costs incurred to investigate the source and extent of the release of heating oil. Damages covered under third party liability coverage shall include response action costs incurred to address conditions on and off the insured's property arising from a heating oil release on the insured's property that has impacted or is likely to impact groundwater or has migrated to, or is likely to migrate to, a third party's property. First party and third party liability coverage shall apply simultaneously and, in addition to, one another when both coverages are applicable.
