SENATE No. 851

By Mr. Keenan, a petition (accompanied by bill, Senate, No. 851) of John F. Keenan and Kris MacDonald for legislation relative to the wrongful death or injury of animal companions. The Judiciary.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the One Hundred and Eighty-Ninth General Court
(2015-2016)

An Act relative to the wrongful death or injury of animal companions.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1. Section 85A of chapter 272 of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2012
2 Official Edition, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence.

3 SECTION 2. Said chapter 272, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after 4 section 85A the following section:-

5 Section 85A 1/2.

6 (a) As used in this section, the term "animal-companion" shall mean a dog, cat or any 7 warm-blooded, domesticated non-human animal dependent on one or more human persons for 8 food, shelter, veterinary care, or companionship. It does not include animals that are the subjects 9 of legal, humane farming practices; legal, humane biomedical research practices; or activities
10 regulated by the federal Animal Welfare Act.

11 (b) A person who by willful, wanton, reckless or negligent act or omission kills or causes 12 or procures the death of an animal-companion shall be liable in damages for the fair monetary 13 value of the deceased animal to his or her human companions, including damages for the loss of 14 the reasonably expected society, companionship, comfort, protection and services of the 15 deceased animal to his or her human companions; reasonable burial expenses of the deceased 16 animal; court costs and attorney's fees; and other reasonable damages resulting from the willful, 17 wanton, reckless or negligent act or omission. Non-economic damages shall have a cap value of 18 $25,000.

19 (c) A person who by willful, wanton, reckless or negligent act or omission injures, or 20 causes or procures to be injured, an animal-companion shall be liable in damages for the 21 expenses of veterinary and other special medical care required; the loss of reasonably expected 22 society, companionship, comfort, protection and services of the injured animal to his or her 23 human companions; court costs and attorney's fees; and other reasonable damages resulting from 24 the willful, wanton, reckless or negligent act or omission. Non-economic damages shall have a 25 cap value of $25,000.

26 (e) Damages under this section for injuries sustained by an animal's human companion 27 shall be recovered in an action of tort, commenced within two years from the date of injury or 28 death or from the date when the human companion knew, or in the exercise of reasonable 29 diligence should have known, of the factual basis for a cause of action, or within such time 30 thereafter under section 4, 4B, 9 or 10 of chapter 260.

31 (f) Damages under this section for injuries sustained by an animal shall be recovered in 32 an action of tort by a guardian ad litem or next friend, commenced within two years from the

33 date of injury or from the date when the guardian ad litem or next friend knew, or in the exercise 34 of reasonable diligence should have known, of the factual basis for a cause of action, or within 35 such time thereafter under section 4, 4B, or 9 of chapter 260.
