Amend the bill by striking out everything after the enacting clause and before the summary and inserting the following:

Sec. 1. 14 MRSA §6001, sub-§3, as amended by PL 2009, c. 566, §2, is further amended to read:

3. Presumption of retaliation. In an action of forcible entry and detainer there is a rebuttable presumption that the action was commenced in retaliation against the tenant if, within 6 months prior to the commencement of the action, the tenant has:

- A. Asserted the tenant's rights pursuant to section 6021;
- B. Complained as an individual, or if a complaint has been made in that individual's behalf, in good faith, of conditions affecting that individual's dwelling unit that may constitute a violation of a building, housing, sanitary or other code, ordinance, regulation or statute, presently or hereafter adopted, to a body charged with enforcement of that code, ordinance, regulation or statute, or such a body has filed a notice or complaint of such a violation;
- C. Complained in writing or made a written request, in good faith, to the landlord or the landlord's agent to make repairs on the premises as required by any applicable building, housing or sanitary code, or by section 6021, or as required by the rental agreement between the parties; or
- E. Filed Prior to being served with an eviction notice, filed, in good faith, a fair housing complaint for which there is a reasonable basis with the Maine Human Rights Commission or filed, in good faith, a fair housing complaint for which there is a reasonable basis with the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development concerning acts affecting that individual's tenancy.

If an action of forcible entry and detainer is brought for failure to pay rent or for causing substantial damage to the premises, the presumption of retaliation does not apply, unless the tenant has asserted a right pursuant to section 6026.

No writ of possession may issue in the absence of rebuttal of the presumption of retaliation.

Sec. 2. 14 MRSA §6001, sub-§5, as enacted by PL 2009, c. 566, §3, is repealed and the following enacted in its place:

5. Affirmative defense. A tenant may raise the affirmative defense of failure of the landlord to provide the tenant with a reasonable accommodation pursuant to Title 5, chapter 337 or the federal Fair Housing Act, 42 United States Code, Section 3604(f)(3)(B). The court shall deny the forcible entry and detainer and not grant possession to the landlord if the court determines that the landlord has a duty to offer a reasonable accommodation and has failed to do so and there is a causal link between the accommodation requested and the conduct that is the subject of the forcible entry and detainer action.

The court shall grant the forcible entry and detainer if the court determines that the landlord is otherwise entitled to possession and:

- A. The landlord does not have a duty to offer a reasonable accommodation;
- B. The landlord has, in fact, offered a reasonable accommodation; or
- C. There is no causal link between the accommodation requested and the conduct that is the subject of the forcible entry and detainer action.

For purposes of this subsection, "reasonable accommodation" means a change, exception or adjustment to a rule, policy, practice or service that is necessary for a person with a disability to have an equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling, including public and common access spaces for that dwelling.

After first disclosing what the cost of the tenant's compliance with requested bedbug inspection or control measures may be, amaking this disclosure, the landlord may provide financial assistance to the tenant to prepare the unit for bedbug treatment. A landlord may charge the tenant a reasonable amount for any such assistance, subject to a reasonable repayment schedule, not to exceed 6 months, unless an extension is otherwise agreed to by the landlord and the tenant. This paragraph may not be construed to require the landlord to provide the tenant with alternate lodging or to pay to replace the tenant's personal property.

A prospective tenant who will be paying utility costs has the right to obtain from an energy supplier for the unit offered for rental the amount of consumption and the cost of that consumption for the prior 12-month period. A landlord or other person who on behalf of a landlord enters into a lease or tenancy at will agreement for residential property that will be used by a tenant or lessee as a primary residence shall provide to potential tenants or lessees who pay for an energy supply for the unit, or upon request by a tenant or lessee a residential energy efficiency disclosure statement in accordance with Title 35#A, section 10117, subsection 1 that includes, but is not limited to, information about the energy efficiency of the property. The landlord or other person who on behalf of a landlord enters into a lease or tenancy at will agreement shall retain the signed statement for a minimum of 73 years.'

SUMMARY

This amendment replaces the bill and does the following:

1. It provides that there must be a reasonable basis for the fair housing complaint for it to be a defense to an eviction and provides that the presumption of retaliation does not apply if the fair housing complaint was filed after the tenant was served with an eviction notice;

2. It defines the term "reasonable accommodation" and provides that there must be a causal link between the reasonable accommodation and the conduct that is the subject of the eviction action;

3. It provides that if an action for forcible entry and detainer is brought for failure to pay rent or for causing substantial damages to the premises, there is no presumption of retaliation unless the tenant has asserted that tenant's rights under the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 14, section 6026, which allows the tenant to offset rent with expenditures made by the tenant for repairs or heating costs if included in the rent;

4. It provides that the tenant must attach an affidavit to a Notice of Appeal stating that the tenant has complied with the law in order to stay the issuance of a writ of possession pending an appeal;

5. It provides that a lease or tenancy at will agreement may permit a landlord to dispose of property abandoned by the tenant without liability as long as the landlord complies with the applicable notice requirements;

6. It reduces the time a tenant has to respond to a notice to dispose of the tenant's property that is being stored by the landlord from 14 days to 7 days;

7. It reduces the time a landlord must continue to store the tenant's property if that tenant responds to the notice to dispose within the required time frame from 24 days to 14 days;

8. It provides that a tenant may waive the rights provided in law addressing unclaimed property. If the tenant's waiver is oral the landlord must confirm this waiver in writing;

9. It provides that the notice of disposal may be sent after entry of judgment for the landlord but prior to the service of the writ of possession or the tenant's vacating the premises. However, if the tenant is still in possession of the rental unit, the tenant would still have at least 7 days after the notice is sent or 48 hours after the writ of possession is served, whichever is later, to claim the property;

10. It repeals the law that requires a landlord to provide financial assistance to tenants to control bed bugs;

11. It requires landlords to disclose the cost of the tenant's compliance with the requested inspection or bed bug control measures and allows a landlord to provide financial assistance in preparing the unit for bed bug treatment and provides that the landlord is not liable to provide the tenant with alternate lodging or to replace the tenant's personal property;

12. It provides that the presumption of retaliation only applies if the tenant complained about the bed bugs prior to being served with the eviction notice and the presumption of retaliation does not apply if the action for forcible entry and detainer was brought for failure to pay rent or causing substantial damages to the premises;

13. It provides that a prospective tenant who would be paying for a utility has the right to obtain from the regulated utility or the vendor the amount of consumption for the prior 12 months;

14. It requires the landlord to provide an energy efficiency disclosure statement to the tenant or lessee who is paying for an energy supply for the unit or upon the request of a tenant or lessee;

15. It allows a landlord to either place a disclosure of the tenant's right to obtain the energy use history of the rental unit in the application or give the tenant the energy efficiency disclosure statement; and

16. It removes the requirement that the landlord post the disclosure statement in a prominent location in the property that is being offered for rent or lease and reduces the time a landlord must retain the statement signed by the tenant from a minimum of 7 years to 3 years.
