

CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to real property rights; prohibiting adverse action against certain persons for requesting emergency assistance on a rental property in certain cases; specifying that a request for emergency assistance on a rental property does not constitute a nuisance in certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

Sections 1 and 2 of this bill prohibit a landlord from taking adverse action against a tenant of a dwelling or manufactured home, including, without limitation, evicting or taking certain other punitive action based solely upon a tenant or other person in the rental property of the tenant requesting emergency assistance from a provider of emergency services based on a reasonable belief that an emergency response is necessary or that criminal activity has occurred. Sections 1 and 2 also prohibit a local government or political subdivision of this State from taking adverse action against a landlord based solely on the request of a tenant or other person for emergency assistance. Sections 1 and 2 also specify that the provisions of this bill do not prohibit a landlord or a local government or political subdivision of this State from curing a breach of a rental agreement or abating a nuisance or a violation of a local law, ordinance or regulation which is discovered by or reported to the landlord by a peace officer as a result of a request for emergency assistance.

Existing law provides that any provision of a rental agreement for a dwelling or rental agreement or lease for a manufactured home lot that waives or limits certain rights or remedies provided by law is void and unenforceable and therefore any provision in such a rental agreement or lease that allows adverse action against a tenant in violation of the provisions of sections 1 and 2 would be void and unenforceable. (NRS 118A.200, 118B.050)

Existing law provides that a nuisance includes conditions on a property that interfere with the free use or comfortable enjoyment of the property, including, without limitation, health hazards or the use of a property for the commission of certain crimes. (NRS 40.140, 202.450) Sections 4-6 of this bill provide that a request for emergency assistance by a tenant or other person in the rental property of the tenant as described above does not constitute a nuisance for purposes of civil or criminal law.
