on Commerce and Labor

CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to contractors; authorizing the State Contractors' Board to delegate to a hearing officer or panel its authority to hold certain hearings; expanding the period during which an applicant for licensure as a contractor must have received certain experience before applying for licensure; repealing provisions which require an applicant for renewal of a contractor's license who will engage in residential construction to submit certain financial information to the Board; expanding the period during which a license may be placed on inactive status; authorizing a licensee who was on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States, a reserve component thereof or the National Guard to apply to have his or her contractor's license reinstated under certain circumstances; repealing provisions which prohibit a telephone number to a provider of paging services used in certain unlawful advertising from being disconnected; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, if the State Contractors' Board denies an application for issuance or renewal of a contractor's license, the applicant for the license may submit a written request to the Board for a hearing concerning the denial of the application. If the applicant submits a written request, the Board is required to hold a hearing. (NRS 624.2545) Section 1 of this bill: (1) authorizes the Board to delegate to a hearing officer or panel its authority to hold a hearing concerning the denial of the license; and (2) requires the Board to adopt regulations setting forth the qualifications for a hearing officer.

Under existing law, an applicant for a contractor's license or a licensee must show such experience, financial responsibility and general knowledge of the building, safety, health and lien laws of the State of Nevada as are required by the Board. In addition, each applicant for licensure as a contractor is required to have acquired at least 4 years of experience as a journeyman, foreman, supervising employee or contractor within the 10 years immediately preceding the date of filing of the application. (NRS 624.260) Section 2 of this bill increases the 10-year requirement to 15 years.

Under existing law, if an applicant for a contractor's license will engage in residential construction and the applicant has not held a contractor's license within the 2 years immediately preceding the date the application is submitted to the Board, the applicant is required to establish his or her financial responsibility by submitting a financial statement and other information to the Board. If the Board issues a contractor's license to the applicant, the applicant is required, for the first 2 years after the issuance of the license, to submit with each application for the renewal of his or her license a financial statement and other information to the Board. (NRS 624.264) Section 3 of this bill repeals the requirement for the submission of a financial statement and other information with each application for the renewal of the license.

Under existing law, if a contractor's license is placed on inactive status, the license may remain on inactive status for 5 years. (NRS 624.282) Section 4 of this bill increases the 5-year limitation on the inactive status of the license to 8 years.

Under existing law, each contractor's license expires 2 years after the date on which it was issued or on another date established by regulations of the Board. A license which is not renewed before the date for the renewal of the license is automatically suspended. (NRS 624.283) Section 5 of this bill: (1) authorizes a licensee whose license is automatically suspended while he or she was on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States, a reserve component thereof or the National Guard to submit an application to the Board requesting the reinstatement of his or her license without the imposition of a penalty or disciplinary action; (2) sets forth the requirements for the Board to reinstate the license; and (3) authorizes the Board to waive the fee for renewal of the license.

Under existing law, it is unlawful for a person to advertise as a contractor unless the person has a contractor's license in the appropriate classification for the license. If the Board determines that a person violated the prohibition against unlawful advertising, the Board may, in addition to taking certain other actions, cause any telephone number included in the advertising to be disconnected, other than a telephone number to a provider of paging services. Section 6 of this bill repeals the provisions which prohibit the Board from causing the telephone number of a provider of paging services to be disconnected.
