EXPLANATION – Matter in bolded italics is new; matter between brackets [omitted material] is material to be omitted.

AN ACT relating to redevelopment of communities; revising requirements for the submission of an employment plan; requiring a redevelopment agency to withhold a portion of any incentive provided to a developer unless the developer satisfies certain conditions; requiring the reporting of certain information relating to the redevelopment project by certain developers; requiring an employment plan to include information relating to preferences for hiring persons from the redevelopment area; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

Under existing law, if a redevelopment agency provides property for development for less than the fair market value of the property or provides financial incentives of more than $100,000 to a developer, the developer must comply with certain laws relating to the payment of a prevailing wage. (NRS 279.500) Additionally, a proposal for a redevelopment project must include an employment plan, if appropriate. (NRS 279.482)

Section 6 of this bill exempts public agencies who use redevelopment funds for a public work and private developers who do not construct a redevelopment project for a known owner from the requirement to submit an employment plan. Section 7 of this bill requires an agency that proposes to provide an incentive to a developer to withhold payment of 10 percent of the incentive unless: (1) 15 percent of the employees of contractors, subcontractors, vendors and suppliers of the developer

13 are residents of the redevelopment area; (2) 15 percent of the jobs created by 14 employers as a result of the redevelopment project are filled by residents of the 15 redevelopment area; (3) the developer or build-to-suit owner or lessee complies 16 with the requirements in the employment plan; and (4) the developer satisfies the 17 reporting required by section 8 of this bill. Section 9 of this bill allows a developer
18 to appeal a refusal to pay the amount provided for in section 7 to the legislative 19 body of the community.

20 Section 8 requires a developer that receives an incentive of more than $100,000
21 to report to the redevelopment agency certain information relating to the 22 redevelopment project. Section 8 also requires a developer that receives $100,000
23 or less in incentives to use its best efforts to report such information. Finally,
24 section 8 allows the redevelopment agency to refuse to pay all or a portion of the 25 incentive or to require repayment of any incentive already paid if a developer fails
26 to comply.

27 Section 11 of this bill requires the employment plan to include information
28 about the preference for hiring persons living within the redevelopment area used
29 by the developer and each employer who will be relocating a business into the area
30 as a result of the redevelopment.
