

Senate Bill No. 397—Committee on Health and Human Services

CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to protection of children; requiring the Division of Child and Family Services of the Department of Health and Human Services to establish the Extended Young Adult Support Services Program to provide extended youth support services to certain persons between 18 and 21 years of age; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes a child whom a court places with a person or entity other than a parent and who reaches 18 years of age to request the court to retain jurisdiction over the child until the child reaches the age of 21 years. If a court retains jurisdiction over a child in such circumstances, the child is required to enter into an agreement with the agency which provides child welfare services. Such an agreement is required to provide that the child is entitled to: (1) continue receiving services from the agency which provides child welfare services; and (2) receive monetary payments directly or to have such payments provided to another entity in an amount not to exceed the rate of payment for foster care. (NRS 432B.594) Existing law additionally requires the agency which provides child welfare services to develop a written plan to assist the child in transitioning into independent living. (NRS 432B.595) The federal Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoptions Act of 2008 allows states to receive federal Title IV-E reimbursement for costs associated with providing support services for persons to remain in foster care up to age 21. (Pub. L. No. 110-351)

Sections 23, 27 and 30 of this bill revise terminology so that a person who is between 18 and 21 years of age whose plan for permanent placement on his or her 18th birthday was a permanent living arrangement other than reunification with his or her parents is referred to as a young adult rather than a child. Section 24 of this bill provides that a young adult remains under the jurisdiction of the court until he or she reaches 21 years of age, but has the same ability to make decisions as an adult who is not subject to the jurisdiction of the court. Section 25 of this bill requires the Division of Child and Family Services of the Department of Health and Human Services to establish the Extended Young Adult Support Services Program to provide extended youth support services to young adults who would have been eligible previously to receive services upon electing to remain under the jurisdiction of the court. Section 25 also provides for reporting and the adoption of regulations relating to such a program. Section 34.5 of this bill requires the Division: (1) to consult with and solicit the input of certain stakeholders to develop a budgetary enhancement for the Division to implement the Extended Young Adult Support Services Program; and (2) to the extent federal or other funding is available, to request inclusion of the enhancement in the 2023-2025 proposed budget for the Executive Department of the State Government. Section 22 of this bill defines the term "Program" to refer to the Program, and section 28 of this bill provides that a person or governmental organization that provides services to a participant in the Program is not the custodian of that participant.

Existing law requires a court to refer a child who is 17 years of age and in the custody of an agency which provides welfare services to an attorney upon determining that the child is not likely to be returned to the custody of his or her parent before reaching the age of 18 years. (NRS 432B.592) Section 31 of this bill requires such an attorney to counsel the child concerning the legal consequences of remaining under the jurisdiction of the court, as required by section 24. Section 31 also requires the attorney to counsel the child concerning the legal consequences of participating in the Program and assist the child in deciding whether to participate. Section 32 of this bill requires the agency which provides child welfare services to provide information concerning the Program to such a child and determine whether the child intends to request to participate in the Program at least 120 days before the child reaches 18 years of age. Section 32 authorizes a young adult to decide to participate in the Program any time before his or her 21st birthday, notwithstanding any previous decision not to participate or to terminate participation.

Section 33 of this bill requires a participant in the Program to: (1) enter into a written agreement with the agency which provides child welfare services; and (2) be employed or enrolled in certain educational programs or programs to promote employment, if he or she is capable of doing so. Section 34 of this bill requires the agency which provides child welfare services to develop a written extended youth support services plan to assist a participant in the Program in transitioning to self-sufficiency, and section 33 requires the participant to make a good faith effort to achieve the goals set forth in the plan. Section 26 of this bill requires a court that has jurisdiction over a participant to hold an annual hearing to: (1) review the plan developed for the participant; and (2) determine whether the agency which provides child welfare services has made reasonable efforts to assist the participant in meeting the goals prescribed by the plan. Section 33 also sets forth the conditions under which participation in the Program may be terminated. Section 33 additionally provides that a participant in the Program is entitled to continue to: (1) receive services from the agency which provides child welfare services; and (2) receive monetary payments from that agency or have those payments provided to another entity. Section 33 provides that those monetary payments must be in an amount that is sufficient to assist the young adult to achieve self-sufficiency but does not exceed the rate of payment for foster care. Section 33 authorizes an agency which provides child welfare services or the attorney assigned to the case to request a hearing before the court to address any issue with a participant. Section 34 prescribes certain additional duties of an agency which provides child welfare services with respect to a participant in the Program. Sections 1-19 of this bill make various changes so that the provisions of Nevada Revised Statutes relating to a child who is in foster care are consistent and apply to a person who remains in foster care while participating in the Program in the same manner as a child in foster care who is less than 18 years of age.
