

Senate Bill No. 414–Committee on
Commerce, Labor and Energy

CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to financial institutions; prohibiting a banking or other financial institution from unreasonably delaying a response to an offer for a sale in lieu of a foreclosure sale on real property secured by a residential mortgage loan; prohibiting a banking or other financial institution from obtaining a deficiency judgment in certain circumstances; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

Under existing law, a judgment creditor or a beneficiary of a deed of trust may obtain, after a hearing, a deficiency judgment after a foreclosure sale or trustee’s sale if it appears from the sheriff’s return or the recital of consideration in the trustee’s deed that there is a deficiency of the proceeds of the sale and a balance remaining due the judgment creditor or beneficiary of the deed of trust. For an obligation secured by a mortgage or deed of trust on or after October 1, 2009, a court may not award a deficiency judgment to the judgment creditor or the beneficiary of the deed of trust if: (1) the creditor or beneficiary is a financial institution; (2) the real property is a single-family dwelling and the debtor or grantor was the owner of the property; (3) the debtor or grantor used the loan to purchase the property; (4) the debtor or grantor occupied the property continuously after obtaining the loan; and (5) the debtor or grantor did not refinance the loan. (NRS 40.455) Section 3.5 of this bill prohibits a court from awarding a deficiency judgment to the judgment creditor or the beneficiary of the deed of trust if: (1) the creditor or beneficiary is a banking or other financial institution; (2) the real property is a single-family dwelling and the debtor or grantor was the owner of the property; (3) the debtor or grantor used the loan to purchase the property; (4) the debtor or grantor occupied the property continuously after obtaining the loan; (5) the debtor or grantor and the banking or other financial institution entered into an agreement to sell the real property to a third party for less than the indebtedness; and (6) the agreement does not state the amount of money still owed by the debtor or grantor or does not authorize the banking or other financial institution to recover that money, and contains a statement that the banking or other financial institution has waived its right to recover the amount owed. Section 3 of this bill prohibits a banking or other financial institution or its officers, managers or employees from unreasonably delaying its response to an offer for a sale in lieu of a foreclosure sale on real property secured by a residential mortgage loan.

Under existing law, a violation of section 3 constitutes a misdemeanor and, in addition to any criminal penalty, is punishable by an administrative fine of not more than $10,000. (NRS 668.112, 668.115)
