Sec. 1715.551. (A) As used in this section:

(i) The administrator or executor of the estate of a person who signed a qualified endowment agreement as donor;

(ii) A person designated in a qualified endowment agreement, whether or not born or existing at the time of such designation, to act in place of a party to the agreement for the purpose of resolving disputes about the agreement, including without limitation, its validity, interpretation, performance, enforcement, and any action that it contemplates.

(b) "Benefactor representative" does not mean the state institution of higher education receiving or administering property under a qualified endowment agreement or any person designated by such state institution of higher education for any purpose.

(c) A benefactor representative named in a qualified endowment agreement shall be the only benefactor representative for purposes of this section, regardless of the existence of an administrator or executor of the estate of a person who signed a qualified endowment agreement as donor.

(2) "Qualified endowment agreement" means a gift instrument, signed by a person and a state institution of higher education prior to the effective date of this section, under which the person commits to transfer property, the aggregate value of which is at least three million dollars, to that or another state institution of higher education and the state institution of higher education commits that it or another state institution of higher education will hold or administer the property as an endowment fund, subject to any restrictions on management, investment, spending, or purpose contained in the gift instrument.

(3) "Aggregate value" includes the full value of all property transferred by the donor pursuant to the gift instrument, regardless of whether the state institution of higher education holds and administers such property as one endowment fund or divides the property into multiple endowment funds.

(4) "State institution of higher education" has the same meaning as in section 3345.011 of the Revised Code but also includes foundations, the corporate purpose of which is solely to benefit an identified state institution of higher education, as defined in that section, and that receive, hold, or administer charitable transfers of property for that state institution of higher education.

(B) If a state institution of higher education violates a restriction contained in a qualified endowment agreement on the management, investment, spending, or purpose of the endowment fund, the person who signed the qualified endowment agreement as donor, or the benefactor representative of such person, may notify the charitable law section of the office of the attorney general in writing of the violation.

(C)(1) If, within one hundred eighty days after receiving the notice, the attorney general has not obtained full compliance with the restriction, and restitution to the endowment fund of property approximately equal to any value lost due to the violated restriction, the person who notified the attorney general, or the benefactor representative of such person, may file a complaint for either or both of the following:

(a) Breach of the qualified endowment agreement;

(b) To obtain a declaration of rights and duties expressed in the qualified endowment agreement and as to all of the actions it contemplates, including, without limitation, the interpretation, performance, and enforcement of the qualified endowment agreement and determination of its validity.

(2) Each of the following applies to the complaint:

(a) It may be filed regardless of whether the qualified endowment agreement expressly reserves a right to sue or enforce.

(b) It shall not seek a judgment awarding to the plaintiff damages, court costs, attorney's fees, or any other award of money or other property.

(c) It shall seek only one or both of the following:

(i) Declaratory relief;

(ii) Equitable relief consistent with the charitable purposes expressed in the qualified endowment agreement and consistent with the charitable purposes of the state institution of higher education.

(D) The attorney general may enforce the interests of the beneficiaries of a qualified endowment agreement by filing a complaint for breach or to obtain a declaration of rights and duties expressed in the qualified endowment agreement and as to all of the actions it contemplates, including, without limitation, the interpretation, performance, and enforcement of the qualified endowment agreement and determination of its validity.

(E) A state institution of higher education may obtain a judicial declaration of rights and duties expressed in a qualified endowment agreement and as to all of the actions it contemplates, including, without limitation, the interpretation, performance, and enforcement of the qualified endowment agreement and determination of its validity. The state institution of higher education shall seek such declaration in any suit brought under this section or by filing a complaint.

(F) Every complaint authorized by this section shall be filed in a court of general jurisdiction in the county where the state institution of higher education named as a party has its principal office or principal place of carrying out its charitable purpose, or in a court of the United States whose district includes such county. Every such complaint shall:

1. Name the attorney general as a party;

2. Name as parties the state institution of higher education that signed the qualified endowment agreement or its successor, and each state institution of higher education that currently administers property subject to the qualified endowment agreement;

3. If the attorney general or state institution of higher education files the complaint within twenty-five years after the date of the first transfer of property to the state institution of higher education pursuant to the qualified endowment agreement, name as a party the person who signed the qualified endowment agreement as donor, or the benefactor representative of each such person, if the person or benefactor representative can be located and identified after diligent inquiry.

(G) The failure to name or join as a party a person who signed the qualified endowment agreement as donor, or the benefactor representative of such person, is not jurisdictional. The court, however, shall not act on the merits of the complaint or on any motion for an order to address its merits without first ensuring that the plaintiff has acted diligently to notify such person or the benefactor representative of such person of the complaint and, if the person or benefactor representative is located and identified, affords such person or benefactor representative an opportunity to be heard or to intervene.

(H) The interest of a person who signed a qualified endowment agreement as donor, and the interest represented by the benefactor representative of such person, shall not be presumed to be identical to the interest of either the attorney general or the state institution of higher education.

(I)(1) Subject to division (I)(2) of this section, a person who signed a qualified endowment agreement as donor, or the benefactor representative of such person, shall file a complaint authorized by this section within six years after discovery of the accrual of the cause of action, but in no event shall such a person or the benefactor representative of such person file a complaint authorized by this section more than twenty-five years after the date of the first transfer of property under the qualified endowment agreement.

(2) If, during the sixth year after discovery of the accrual of the cause of action, a person who signed a qualified endowment agreement as donor, or the benefactor representative of such person, notifies the charitable law section of the office of the attorney general in writing of a violation by a state institution of higher education of a restriction contained in the qualified endowment agreement as authorized by this section, the period within which such person or benefactor representative must file a complaint authorized by this section shall be extended automatically by two hundred ten days.

(J) This section applies only to breaches of qualified endowment agreements, if those breaches are alleged to have occurred on or after the effective date of this section.
