18 to transfer, perfect, or enforce a patent, copyright, trade secret,
19 or similar right.

20 D. This act does not affect a noncompetition obligation arising 21 solely as a result of an existing ownership interest in a business 22 entity.

23 E. This act does not affect an agreement that requires a worker

9 and employer and the employer promptly provides the worker a copy of 10 the signed agreement; and

11 5. Subject to subsection C of this section, the employer
12 provides an additional copy of the agreement to the worker, not

19 worker receives the signed agreement before beginning work. If the 20 worker waives the requirement, the worker may rescind the entire 21 employment agreement not later than fourteen (14) days after the 22 worker receives the agreement.

1 C. An employer is not required under paragraph 5 of subsection
2 A of this section to provide an additional copy of the agreement
3 more than once during a calendar year.

4 D. The Department of Labor shall prescribe the notice an 5 employer must provide under paragraph 2 of subsection A of this 6 section. The notice must inform the worker, in language an average 7 reader can understand, of the requirements of this act, including 8 the requirements of subsection A of this section and Sections 5
9 through 14 of this act, and state that this act establishes

6 States Department of Labor; and

7 2. Unenforceable if, at any time during the work relationship,

11 b. the creation of a business in which the worker is a
12 substantial owner,

13 c. a trade secret, or

14 d. an ongoing client or customer relationship of the 17 enforcement, the agreement is narrowly tailored in duration, 18 geographical area, and scope of actual competition to protect an 19 interest under paragraph 1 of this section, and the interest cannot 20 be protected adequately by another restrictive employment agreement; 21 and

22 3. The prohibition on competition lasts not longer than:
23
25

- 1 a. five (5) years after the work relationship ends when 2 protecting an interest under subparagraph a or b of 3 paragraph 1 of this section, or
