3 by all students at the conclusion of individual grades or grade spans;

4 (2) Reflect sensitivity to different learning styles; and

5 (3) Be in a form readily comprehensible by the public.

6 (e) The council shall review the consumer education standards regularly, making changes
7 if appropriate, to ensure that the standards continue to outline the knowledge and skills students are 8 expected to demonstrate regarding the responsible and informed use of financial services. The 9 review cycle shall begin in 2026, with subsequent reviews taking place in 2031, 2036, and every 10 five (5) years thereafter.

11 (f) Any recommended changes or updates to existing standards shall be approved by the 12 council at least sixty (60) days prior to the changes taking effect.

13 (g) Beginning with the graduating class of 2024, all students shall demonstrate proficiency
14 in consumer education prior to graduating high school. LEAs shall have the discretion to allow 15 students the ability to demonstrate proficiency by one or more of the following:

16 (1) Successful completion of a consumer education course of study aligned with the 17 standards developed and approved by the council;

18 (2) Successful completion of a project aligned with the standards developed and approved
19 by the council, under the supervision of a certified educator;

20 (3) Successful completion of a consumer education assessment that is aligned with the 21 standards developed and approved by the council and taken in a controlled testing environment; or

22 (4) Another demonstration of proficiency approved by the council.

23 (h) Schools shall be permitted to make exceptions and accommodations to the requirements
24 of this section for students with disabilities, as provided in chapter 24 of title 16, in those cases
25 wherein the student cannot be reasonably expected to demonstrate proficiency to council standards.

26 (i) The council, in consultation with the department, shall compile and publish the 27 following by April 1, 2022:

28 (1) A list of micro-credentialing programs that train educators in the skills necessary to 29 deliver consumer education lessons in accordance with statewide standards; and

30 (2) Resources and instructional materials including, but not limited to, lesson plans,
31 assessments, and activities that align with the consumer education standards adopted by the council.

32 (j) The council shall review the list of micro-credentialing programs and resources and 33 instructional materials compiled in subsection (i) of this section regularly, making changes if 34 appropriate. The review cycle shall begin in 2026, with subsequent reviews taking place in 2031,

1 2036, and every five (5) years thereafter.

2 (k) By August 1, 2024, and annually by August 1 thereafter, the department shall publish
3 a report on the consumer education instruction in Rhode Island schools. The report shall include,
4 but need not be limited to, the following:

5 (1) The number of high school students at each grade level who have completed a high-
6 school level course of study in consumer education that is aligned with the standards developed
7 and approved by the council; and

8 (2) A list of the middle schools and elementary schools that have incorporated consumer
9 education into their curricula.

10 (l) This section shall not apply to private schools.
