1           WHEREAS, Stephen Salloway, MD, is the Martin M. Zucker Professor of Psychiatry and 2 Human Behavior and Professor of Neurology at Brown University, Chief of Neurology and 3 Director of the Memory and Aging Program (MAP) at Butler Hospital, and a global leader in 4 Alzheimer's Research; and

5           WHEREAS, Approximately 5.5 million Americans suffer from Alzheimer's disease and 6 it is estimated that around 5.3 million are 65 and older, and about two-thirds are women; and

7           WHEREAS, For more than two decades, Dr. Salloway has played a pivotal role in the 8 worldwide fight against Alzheimer's disease; and

9           WHEREAS, During his tenure as the Director of MAP, numerous important outcomes
10 and advances in the fight against Alzheimer's disease have advanced, including most recently, 11 trials for an investigative drug called Aducanumab which is on an FDA fasttrack to becoming the 12 first new drug approved in 16 years, that actually targets the disease and could potentially become 13 "One of the Most Valuable in History" in the fight against Alzheimer's; and

14           WHEREAS, MAP is an affiliate of The Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown 15 University and has a 25-year history of excellence in clinical care, training, and research. They 16 work hand-in-hand with community groups, health care providers, and research organizations to 17 find preventative and breakthrough treatments for Alzheimer's disease; and

18           WHEREAS, For his momentous achievements in the treatment of Alzheimer's disease, 19 Dr. Salloway has been named Rhode Island's Man of the Year for 2019 by GoLocalProv on

1 January 1, 2020, and was inducted into Rhode Island Heritage Hall of Fame on May 8, 2019; and

2 WHEREAS, Due to the extraordinary work of Dr. Salloway, MAP, and the many 3 participants and donors, effective treatment and prevention of Alzheimer's is closer to becoming a 4 reality; now, therefore be it

5 RESOLVED, That this House of Representatives of the State of Rhode Island and 6 Providence Plantations hereby congratulates Dr. Stephen Salloway on being named Rhode 7 Island's Man of the Year for 2019, and wishes him much continued success; and be it further
