7 Congress makes the following findings:

8 (1) A number of repressive foreign governments
9 block, restrict, otherwise control, and monitor the 10 Internet, effectively transforming the Internet into a 11 tool of censorship and surveillance, in contravention 12 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political

1 Rights and the Universal Declaration of Human 2 Rights.

3 (2) A number of United States businesses have 4 enabled the Internet censorship and surveillance of 5 repressive governments by selling these governments
6 or their agents technology or training.

7 (3) A number of United States businesses have
8 cooperated with the Internet censorship and surveil-9 lance of repressive governments by providing such 10 governments with information about cyber-dissidents
11 who were the company's clients or were using the 12 companies' products, and this has led to the arrest
13 and imprisonment of the dissidents.

14 (4) The actions of a number of United States
15 businesses in cooperating with the efforts of repres-
16 sive governments to transform the Internet into a 17 tool of censorship and surveillance have caused 18 Internet users in the United States and in foreign 19 countries to lose confidence in the integrity of 20 United States businesses.

21 (5) Information and communication technology
22 companies are to be commended for cooperating with 23 civil society organizations, academics, and investors
24 in founding the Global Network Initiative, in order
25 to provide direction and guidance to the Information

1 and Communications Technology companies and oth-
2 ers in protecting the free expression and privacy of 3 Internet users.

4 (6) The United States Government has a re-
5 sponsibility to protect freedom of expression on the 6 Internet, to prevent United States businesses from

8 abuses perpetrated by repressive foreign govern-
9 ments, and to restore public confidence in the integ-
