A BILL

To require the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network, the National Credit Union Administration, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, and the United States Department of the Treasury to update guidance on customer identification regulations with respect to the use of identification cards issued by a municipality, and for other purposes.

1        Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4        This Act may be cited as the “Municipal IDs Accept-5 ance Act”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7        Congress finds the following:

8            (1) Current law and regulations require certain 9        financial institutions, including depository institu-10        tions, savings associations, and credit unions, to 11        have a Customer Identification Program to identify 12        customers who wish to open accounts.

13            (2) A financial institution must have risk-based 14        procedures for evaluating new customers that allow 15        the financial institution to form a reasonable belief
16        that the financial institution knows the true identity
17        of the customer.

18            (3) Guidance on the Consumer Identification
19        Program has not been updated since the staff of the 20        Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, 21        Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Financial 22        Crimes Enforcement Network, National Credit
23        Union Administration, Office of the Comptroller of 24        the Currency, Office of Thrift Supervision, and the 25        United States Department of the Treasury (in this

1 section referred to as “the Agencies”) issued “Inter-
2 agency Interpretive Guidance on Customer Identifi-
3 cation Program Requirements under Section 326
4 of the USA PATRIOT Act, 2005 FAQs”.

5 (4) Over the last decade more than two dozen
6 cities and counties in the United States have insti-
7 tuted municipal identification programs, issuing a
8 form of identification to residents who typically do
9 not have driver’s licenses, including young people,
10 the elderly, homeless residents, and immigrants.

11 (5) Municipal identification programs help vul-
12 nerable populations access private and public serv-
13 ices, including library services, utility accounts, food,
14 medical care, and housing assistance.

15 (6) While the Agencies have issued statements
16 about the use of municipal identification for con-
17 sumer identification, many financial institutions
18 have been hesitant to incorporate municipal identi-
19 fication into the Consumer Identification Programs,
20 limiting access to banking for underserved popu-
21 lations.

22 (7) It is important for the Agencies to clarify,
23 in guidance, that financial institutions may accept
24 municipal identification to establish a customer’s 25 identity if such identification enables the bank to

1 form a reasonable belief that the bank knows the 2 true identity of the customer.

3 SEC. 3. UPDATING GUIDANCE ON CUSTOMER IDENTIFICA-
4 TION REGULATIONS.

5 The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve Sys-
6 tem, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Fi-
7 nancial Crimes Enforcement Network, the National Credit
8 Union Administration, the Office of the Comptroller of the 9 Currency, and the Department of the Treasury shall up-
10 date the guidance titled “Guidance on Customer Identi-
11 fication Regulations Financial Crimes Enforcement Net-
12 work FAQs: Final CIP Rule” issued on January 8, 2004,
13 to state that an identification card issued by a munici-
14 pality may be used by a bank to verify the identity of a 15 customer if such identification card enables the bank to 16 form a reasonable belief that the bank knows the true
17 identity of the customer.
