A BILL

To amend title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and other statutes to clarify appropriate liability standards for Federal antidiscrimination claims.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Fair Employment Pro-
5 tection Act of 2014”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

3 (1) Harassment is a widespread problem in 4 workplaces in the United States. Surveys indicate 5 that at least one-fourth of all working women and 6 10 percent of men have experienced sexual harass-
7 ment on the job.

8 (2) In fiscal year 2013, a combined total of over 9 30,000 harassment charges were filed with the 10 Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and 11 State fair employment practices agencies. More than 12 10,000 of these charges involved sexual harassment.

13 (3) Women and people of color working in low-
14 wage jobs are particularly vulnerable to harassment
15 in the workplace.

16 (4) In some industries harassment is even more
17 widespread. For example, 80 percent of female farm-
18 workers working in the fields in central California
19 reported that they had experienced sexual harass-
20 ment.

21 (5) Studies indicate that sexual harassment of 22 women, including unwanted touching, grabbing, and 23 stalking, is also common in male-dominated indus-
24 tries, such as construction, public safety, manufac-
25 turing, farming, and the high-tech industry. Harass-

1 ment in male-dominated industries operates as a
2 barrier to women’s entry into higher-paying jobs.

3 (6) Racial harassment remains a pervasive
4 problem in the workplace in the United States. In 5 fiscal year 2013, more than 11,000 of the charges
6 of harassment filed with the Equal Employment Op-
7 portunity Commission and State fair employment
8 practices agencies were charges of racial harass-
9 ment.

10 (7) Research shows that workers in a wide 11 spectrum of occupations, ranging from service and 12 support positions to management and professional
13 positions, report experiencing race-based harassment
14 while on the job.

15 (8) Harassment in the workplace is a persistent
16 barrier to opportunity for people with disabilities.
17 Harassment can result in workers with disabilities
18 being forced off the job. Workplace harassment is 19 used to send the message that workers with disabil-
20 ities do not belong at work.

21 (9) Age discrimination continues to be a barrier
22 to employment for older workers. Over one-third of 23 older workers report that they or someone they know
24 experienced age discrimination in the workplace.

1 (10) Three quarters of older Americans sur-
2 veyed are concerned that age may be an obstacle to 3 finding work.

4 (11) The Supreme Court’s decision in Vance v.
5 Ball State University, No. 11–556, (June 24, 2013)
6 significantly undermines protections against dis-
7 crimination that the Supreme Court established in 8 Faragher v. Boca Raton, 524 U.S. 775 (1998) and 9 Burlington Industries, Inc. v. Ellerth, 524 U.S. 742
10 (1998), which held that an employer may be vicari-
11 ously liable under title VII of the Civil Rights Act
12 of 1964 for harassment of an employee by an indi-
13 vidual that has supervisory authority over that em-
14 ployee.

15 (12) In Faragher and Ellerth, the Supreme 16 Court held that employers will be subject to a strict 17 liability standard when employees with supervisory
18 authority engage in harassment that results in “tan-
19 gible employment actions.” However, in situations
20 where “supervisors” engage in harassment that does
21 not result in tangible employment actions, the Court
22 explained, an employer can avoid vicarious liability
23 by showing that—

1 (A) the employer exercised reasonable care
2 to prevent and correct any harassing behavior;
3 and

4 (B) the plaintiff unreasonably failed to 5 take advantage of the preventive or corrective 6 opportunities that the employer provided.

7 (13) Whether an employer should be vicariously
8 liable for harassment is a functional analysis that is 9 based not on the title of the harasser or the employ-10 er's job description for the harasser's position but on 11 the authority vested in that individual by the em-
12 ployer.

13 (14) The Supreme Court holding in Vance lim-
14 its the category of individuals who are considered su-
15 pervisors and for which an employer may be held vi-
16 cariously liable under Faragher and Ellerth to those 17 individuals that have authority to take tangible em-
18 ployment actions. This holding ignores the reality 19 that employees with the authority to control their 20 subordinates' daily work should be included in that 21 category, for which an employer may be held vicari-
22 ously liable, because such individuals are aided by 23 that authority in perpetuating a discriminatory work
24 environment.

1 (15) Individuals who direct the daily work ac-
2 tivities of employees but do not have the authority
3 to take tangible employment actions against those 4 employees are common in the workplace in the 5 United States, particularly in industries that employ
6 low-wage workers. Workers in industries including 7 retail, restaurant, health care, housekeeping, and 8 personal care, which may pay low wages and employ 9 a large numbers of female workers, are particularly 10 vulnerable to harassment by individuals who have 11 the power to direct day-to-day work activities but 12 lack the power to take tangible employment actions.

13 (b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this Act is to clarify 14 that an employer’s vicarious liability for harassment under 15 title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimi-16 nation in Employment Act of 1967, the Americans with 17 Disabilities Act of 1990, the Rehabilitation Act of 1973,
18 section 1977 of the Revised Statutes, the Genetic Informa-
19 tion Nondiscrimination Act of 2008, the Government Em-
20 ployee Rights Act of 1991, the Congressional Account-
21 ability Act of 1995, and title III of the United States Code 22 extends to—

23 (1) an individual with the authority to under-24 take or recommend tangible employment actions af-
25 fecting the victim of the harassment; or

1 (2) an individual with the authority to direct
2 the victim’s daily work activities.
