

118TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. 697

To amend the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to clarify that disparate impacts on certain populations constitute a sufficient basis for rights of action under such Act, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

FEBRUARY 1, 2023

Ms. TLAIB (for herself, Ms. BUSH, and Ms. LEE of Pennsylvania) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, and in addition to the Committee on Education and the Workforce, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned

A BILL

To amend the Civil Rights Act of 1964 to clarify that disparate impacts on certain populations constitute a sufficient basis for rights of action under such Act, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Justice for All Act 5 of 2023”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 Congress finds the following:

3 (1) This Act is made necessary by a decision of 4 the Supreme Court in Alexander v. Sandoval, 532
5 U.S. 275 (2001) that significantly impairs statutory 6 protections against discrimination that Congress has 7 erected over a period of almost 4 decades. The 8 Sandoval decision undermines these statutory pro-9 tections by stripping victims of discrimination (de-10 fined under regulations that Congress required Fed-11 eral departments and agencies to promulgate to im-
12 plement title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 13 U.S.C. 2000d et seq.)) of the right to bring action 14 in Federal court to redress the discrimination.

15 (2) The Sandoval decision contradicts settled
16 expectations created by title VI of the Civil Rights
17 Act of 1964, title IX of the Education Amendments
18 of 1972 (also known as the “Patsy Takemoto Mink
19 Equal Opportunity in Education Act”) (20 U.S.C.
20 1681 et seq.), the Age Discrimination Act of 1975
21 (42 U.S.C. 6101 et seq.), and section 504 of the Re-22 habilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. 794) (collec-23 tively referred to in this Act as the “covered civil 24 rights provisions”). The covered civil rights provi-
25 sions were designed to establish and make effective 26 the rights of persons to be free from discrimination

1 on the part of entities that are subject to 1 or more
2 of the covered civil rights provisions, as appropriate 3 (referred to in this Act as “covered entities”). In 4 1964 Congress adopted title VI of the Civil Rights
5 Act of 1964 to ensure that Federal dollars would not 6 be used to subsidize or support programs or activi-7 ties that discriminated on racial, color, or national 8 origin grounds. In the years that followed, Congress 9 extended these protections by enacting laws barring 10 discrimination in federally funded education activi-
11 ties on the basis of sex in title IX of the Education
12 Amendments of 1972, and discrimination in feder-
13 ally funded activities on the basis of age in the Age
14 Discrimination Act of 1975 and disability in section 15 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

16 (3) All of the statutes cited in this section were 17 designed to protect persons subject to discrimina-
18 tion. As Congress has consistently recognized, effec-19 tive enforcement of the statutes and protection of 20 the rights guaranteed under the statutes depend 21 heavily on the efforts of private attorneys general.
22 Congress acknowledged that it could not secure com-
23 pliance solely through administrative efforts and en-
24 forcement actions initiated by the Attorney General.

1 Newman v. Piggie Park Enterprises, 390 U.S. 400
2 (1968) (per curiam).

3 (4) The Supreme Court has made it clear that 4 individuals suffering discrimination under these stat-5 utes have a private right of action in the Federal 6 courts, and that this is necessary for effective pro-7 tection of the law, although Congress did not make 8 such a right of action explicit in the statute involved.
9 Cannon v. University of Chicago, 441 U.S. 677
10 (1979).

11 (5) Furthermore, for effective enforcement of 12 the statutes cited in this section, it is necessary that 13 the private right of action include a means to chal-
14 lenge all forms of discrimination that are prohibited
15 by the statutes, including practices that have a dis-16 parate impact and are not justified as necessary to 17 achieve the legitimate goals of programs or activities
18 supported by Federal financial assistance.

19 (6) By reinstating a private right of action to 20 challenge disparate impact discrimination under title
21 VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C. 2000d 22 et seq.) and confirming that right for other civil 23 rights statutes, Congress is not acting in a manner
24 that would expose covered entities to unfair findings
25 of discrimination. The legal standard for a disparate

1 impact claim has never been structured so that a
2 finding of discrimination could be based on numer-
3 ical imbalance alone.

4 (7) In contrast, a failure to reinstate or confirm 5 a private right of action would leave vindication of 6 the rights to equality of opportunity solely to Fed-
7 eral agencies. Action by Congress to specify a pri-8 vate right of action is necessary to ensure that per-9 sons will have a remedy if they are denied equal ac-10 cess to education, housing, health, environmental 11 protection, transportation, and many other programs
12 and services by practices of covered entities that re-13 sult in discrimination.

14 (8) As a result of the Supreme Court's decision
15 in Sandoval, courts have dismissed numerous claims 16 brought under the regulations promulgated pursuant 17 to title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 18 U.S.C. 2000d et seq.) that challenged actions with 19 an unjustified discriminatory effect. Although the 20 Sandoval Court did not address title IX of the Edu-21 cation Amendments of 1972 (20 U.S.C. 1681 et 22 seq.), lower courts have similarly dismissed claims 23 under such title.

24 (9) Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 25 1973 (29 U.S.C. 794) has received different treat-

1 ment by the Supreme Court. In Alexander v. Choate, 2 469 U.S. 287 (1985), the Court proceeded on the 3 assumption that the statute itself prohibited some 4 actions that had a disparate impact on disabled indi-5 viduals—an assumption borne out by congressional 6 statements made during passage of the Act. In 7 Sandoval, the Court appeared to accept this prin-
8 ciple of Alexander. Moreover, the Supreme Court ex-9 plicitly recognized congressional approval of the reg-10 ulations promulgated to implement section 504 of 11 the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 in Consolidated Rail
12 Corp. v. Darrone, 465 U.S. 624, 634 (1984). Rely-13 ing on the validity of the regulations, Congress in-14 corporated the regulations into the statutory require-15 ments of section 204 of the Americans with Disabil-
16 ities Act of 1990 (42 U.S.C. 12134). Nonetheless, 17 Sandoval creates the potential for uncertainty in the 18 application of critical protections of Section 504, 19 particularly in the lower courts.

20 (10) The right to maintain a private right of 21 action under a provision added to a statute under 22 this Act will be effectuated by a waiver of sovereign 23 immunity in the same manner as sovereign immu-24 nity is waived under the remaining provisions of that 25 statute.

1 (11) Numerous provisions of Federal law ex-
2 pressly prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex, 3 and Federal agencies and courts have correctly in-4 terpreted these prohibitions on sex discrimination to 5 include discrimination based on sexual orientation, 6 gender identity, and sex stereotypes. In particular,
7 the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission
8 correctly interpreted title VII of the Civil Rights Act 9 of 1964 in Macy v. Holder, Baldwin v. Foxx, and 10 Lusardi v. McHugh.

11 (12) In forbidding discrimination based on sex,
12 Congress intended to strike at the entire spectrum 13 of disparate treatment resulting from sex-related 14 characteristics. The Supreme Court correctly recog-15 nized in Price Waterhouse v. Hopkins and Oncale v.
16 Sundowner Offshore Services that among these char-
17 acteristics are sex-stereotypes, including masculinity
18 and femininity. Congress reaffirmed in the Preg-
19 nancy Discrimination Act of 1978 that discrimina-
20 tion on the basis of “sex” includes but is not limited 21 to discrimination on the basis of “pregnancy, child-22 birth, or related medical conditions.”.

23 (13) The absence of explicit prohibitions of dis-24 crimination on the basis of sexual orientation and 25 gender identity under Federal statutory law has cre-

1 ated uncertainty for employers and other entities
2 covered by Federal nondiscrimination laws and 3 caused unnecessary hardships for LGBTQ individ-4 uals.

5 (14) The Supreme Court correctly recognized in 6 Hobby Lobby v. Burwell that the Religious Freedom
7 Restoration Act of 1993 (RFRA) “provides no . . .
8 shield” to those who “cloak” discrimination as “reli-
9 gious practice to escape legal sanction.” This Act re-
10 affirms that crucial limitation on RFRA, that Con-
11 gress did not intend for it to be used—and indeed 12 it cannot be used—to provide a defense against alle-
13 gations of discrimination on the basis of any pro-14 tected trait.

15 (15) Chapter 1 of title 9, United States Code
16 (commonly known as the “Federal Arbitration
17 Act”), represented an exercise of legislative power 18 that required courts to recognize private voluntary 19 agreements to arbitrate commercial disputes at a 20 time when the courts were refusing to do so on 21 grounds that arbitration represented a usurpation of 22 the authority of the courts to resolve legal disputes.

23 (16) The Federal Arbitration Act did not, and 24 should not have been interpreted to, supplant or nul-
25 lify the legislatively created rights and remedies that

1 Congress, exercising its power under article I of the 2 Constitution of the United States, has granted to 3 the people of the United States for resolving dis-
4 putes in State and Federal courts.

5 (17) Recent court decisions, including AT&T
6 Mobility LLC v. Concepcion, 563 U.S. 333 (2011)
7 and American Express Co. v. Italian Colors Res-
8 taurant, 133 S. Ct. 2304 (2013), have interpreted 9 the Federal Arbitration Act to broadly preempt 10 rights and remedies established under substantive 11 State and Federal law. As a result, these decisions 12 have enabled business entities to avoid or nullify 13 legal duties created by congressional enactment, re-
14 sulting in millions of people in the United States 15 being unable to vindicate their rights in State and 16 Federal courts.

17 (18) States have a compelling interest in enact-18 ing rights and remedies to protect the welfare of 19 their citizens, and the Federal Arbitration Act 20 should not be, and should not have been, interpreted 21 to preempt State legislation that enacted rights and 22 remedies to protect the welfare of their citizens.

23 (19) The Supreme Court misinterpreted title 24 VII of the Civil Rights Act in establishing the 25 Faragher-Ellerth affirmative defense in Faragher v.

1 City of Boca Raton and Burlington Industries, Inc.
2 v. Ellerth. This affirmative defense often leaves vic-
3 tims of sexual harassment with no remedy or re-4 course after incidence of sexual or other harassment.
5 Violations of the law, and injuries to a victim and 6 their rights, are not cured by the existence of an 7 anti-harassment policy or the lack of future harm, 8 and in a hostile work environment taking preventa-9 tive measures is not a requirement that falls on the 10 victim.

11 (20) Bringing a lawsuit to vindicate civil rights 12 is financially risky, and law firms, whether large or 13 small, are unlikely to take such cases on. Congress
14 enacted the Civil Rights Attorney’s Fees Award Act 15 of 1976 in order to make lawsuits to vindicate civil 16 rights more accessible to potential plaintiffs. The 17 Supreme Court correctly recognized in City of River-
18 side v. Rivera that the effectuation of congressional 19 intent requires viable civil rights lawsuits, which are 20 dependent on the availability of private enforcement 21 mechanisms and the corresponding availability of at-22 torney’s fees.

23 (21) However, the Supreme Court incorrectly
24 held that the “catalyst theory” is not a permissible
25 basis for the award of attorney’s fees in Buckhannon

1 v. West Virginia Department of Health & Human 2 Resources. In doing so, the Court deprived plaintiffs 3 who effectively win a lawsuit through a settlement, 4 from receiving pre-trial attorney’s fees. Congress en-5 acted fee-shifting provisions in civil rights laws to 6 encourage private enforcement of those laws, and 7 fees must be awarded when a lawsuit vindicates the 8 rights Congress sought to secure. In disapproving of 9 the “catalyst theory” the Court incentivized poten-10 tial defendants to draw out the pre-trial process and 11 settle at the last second, making the lawsuit too ex-
12 pensive for the average victim to undertake and too
13 risky for the average attorney to accept a civil rights 14 case.

15 (22) The Civil Rights Act of 1964, and other 16 civil rights laws that followed it, were written, in 17 part, to banish rampant disparate treatment on the 18 basis of race from American society. Congress
19 sought to overcome the pervasive, racist ideology
20 that Black traits were inferior by prohibiting dis-
21 crimination, and intended the Act to be interpreted 22 broadly—encompassing race and all its attributes, 23 especially those traits historically associated with 24 race.

1 (23) “Blackness” and its associated physical 2 traits, such as dark skin and kinky and curly hair, 3 have too often been equated with inferiority and 4 “unprofessionalism.” Professionalism was, and still 5 is, closely linked to European features and manner-
6 isms, which entails that those who do not naturally
7 fall into Eurocentric norms must alter their appear-8 ances, sometimes drastically and permanently, in 9 order to be deemed professional. Such norms are, on 10 their face, proxies for race.

11 (24) Federal courts have correctly interpreted,
12 e.g. that title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 13 prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, and 14 thus protect individuals from discrimination against 15 afros. However, the courts have yet to accept that 16 the Act outlaws dress codes and grooming policies
17 that prohibit any natural presentation of Black hair, 18 including afros, braids, twists, and locks. Although 19 purportedly “race-neutral”, these policies have a dis-
20 parate impact on Black individuals as they are more 21 likely to deter, burden, or punish Black individuals
22 than any other group. Therefore, hair discrimination
23 targeting hairstyles associated with race is racial dis-24 crimination.

1 SEC. 3. PROHIBITED DISCRIMINATION.

2 (a) CIVIL RIGHTS ACT OF 1964.—Section 601 of the 3 Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C. 2000d) is amended—

4 (1) by striking “No” and inserting “(a) No”;

5 (2) by inserting “religion, sex (as such term is 6 defined in section 208),” before “or national origin”;

7 and

8 (3) by adding at the end the following:

9 “(b)(1)(A) Discrimination (including exclusion from 10 participation and denial of benefits) based on disparate 11 impact is established under this title only if—

12 “(i) a person aggrieved by discrimination on the 13 basis of race, color, sex (as defined in section 208), 14 or national origin (referred to in this title as an ‘per-15 son aggrieved’ demonstrates that an entity subject 16 to this title (referred to in this title as a ‘covered en-17 tity’) has a policy or practice that causes a disparate 18 impact on the basis of race, color, sex (as such term 19 is defined in section 208), or national origin and the 20 covered entity fails to demonstrate that the chal-
21 lenged policy or practice is related to and necessary
22 to achieve the nondiscriminatory goals of the pro-
23 gram or activity alleged to have been operated in a
24 discriminatory manner; or

25 “(ii) the person aggrieved demonstrates (con-
26 sistent with the demonstration required under title

1 VII with respect to an ‘alternative employment prac-2 tice’) that a less discriminatory alternative policy or 3 practice exists, and the covered entity refuses to 4 adopt such alternative policy or practice.

5 “(B)(i) With respect to demonstrating that a par-
6 ticular policy or practice causes a disparate impact as de-
7 scribed in subparagraph (A)(i), the person aggrieved shall 8 demonstrate that each particular challenged policy or 9 practice causes a disparate impact, except that if the per-
10 son aggrieved demonstrates to the court that the elements
11 of a covered entity’s decisionmaking process are not capa-
12 ble of separation for analysis, the decisionmaking process
13 may be analyzed as 1 policy or practice.

14 “(ii) If the covered entity demonstrates that a specific 15 policy or practice does not cause the disparate impact, the 16 covered entity shall not be required to demonstrate that 17 such policy or practice is necessary to achieve the goals
18 of its program or activity.

19 “(2) A demonstration that a policy or practice is nec-
20 essary to achieve the goals of a program or activity may 21 not be used as a defense against a claim of intentional
22 discrimination under this title.

23 “(3) In this subsection, the term ‘demonstrates’
24 means meets the burdens of production and persuasion.”.

1 (b) EDUCATION AMENDMENTS OF 1972.—Section
2 901 of the Education Amendments of 1972 (20 U.S.C.
3 1681) is amended—

4 (1) by redesignating subsection (c) as sub-5 section (e); and

6 (2) by inserting after subsection (b) the fol-
7 lowing:

8 “(c)(1)(A) Subject to the conditions described in 9 paragraphs (1) through (9) of subsection (a), discrimina-10 tion (including exclusion from participation and denial of 11 benefits) based on disparate impact is established under 12 this title only if—

13 “(i) a person aggrieved by discrimination on the 14 basis of sex (as such term is defined in section 208
15 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964) (referred to in this 16 title as an ‘person aggrieved’) demonstrates that an 17 entity subject to this title (referred to in this title as 18 a ‘covered entity’) has a policy or practice that 19 causes a disparate impact on the basis of sex and 20 the covered entity fails to demonstrate that the chal-
21 lenged policy or practice is related to and necessary
22 to achieve the nondiscriminatory goals of the pro-
23 gram or activity alleged to have been operated in a
24 discriminatory manner; or

1 “(ii) the person aggrieved demonstrates (con-
2 sistent with the demonstration required under title
3 VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C.
4 2000e et seq.) with respect to an ‘alternative em-
5 ployment practice’) that a less discriminatory alter-
6 native policy or practice exists, and the covered enti-
7 ty refuses to adopt such alternative policy or prac-
8 tice.

9 “(B)(i) With respect to demonstrating that a par-
10 ticular policy or practice causes a disparate impact as de-
11 scribed in subparagraph (A)(i), the person aggrieved shall 12 demonstrate that each particular challenged policy or 13 practice causes a disparate impact, except that if the per-
14 son aggrieved demonstrates to the court that the elements
15 of a covered entity’s decisionmaking process are not capa-
16 ble of separation for analysis, the decisionmaking process
17 may be analyzed as 1 policy or practice.

18 “(ii) If the covered entity demonstrates that a specific 19 policy or practice does not cause the disparate impact, the 20 covered entity shall not be required to demonstrate that
21 such policy or practice is necessary to achieve the goals
22 of its program or activity.

23 “(2) A demonstration that a policy or practice is nec-
24 essary to achieve the goals of a program or activity may

1 not be used as a defense against a claim of intentional
2 discrimination under this title.

3 “(3) In this subsection, the term ‘demonstrates’
4 means meets the burdens of production and persuasion.”.

5 (c) AGE DISCRIMINATION ACT OF 1975.—Section
6 303 of the Age Discrimination Act of 1975 (42 U.S.C.
7 6102) is amended—

8 (1) by striking “Pursuant” and inserting “(a) 9 Pursuant”; and

10 (2) by adding at the end the following:

11 “(b)(1)(A) Subject to the conditions described in sub-12 sections (b) and (c) of section 304, discrimination (includ-13 ing exclusion from participation and denial of benefits)
14 based on disparate impact is established under this title 15 only if—

16 “(i) a person aggrieved by discrimination on the 17 basis of age (referred to in this title as a ‘person ag-18 grieved’) demonstrates that an entity subject to this 19 title (referred to in this title as a ‘covered entity’)
20 has a policy or practice that causes a disparate im-
21 pact on the basis of age and the covered entity fails 22 to demonstrate that the challenged policy or practice 23 is related to and necessary to achieve the non-24 discriminatory goals of the program or activity al-

1 leged to have been operated in a discriminatory 2 manner; or

3 “(ii) the person aggrieved demonstrates (con-
4 sistent with the demonstration required under title
5 VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C.
6 2000e et seq.) with respect to an ‘alternative em-
7 ployment practice’) that a less discriminatory alter-
8 native policy or practice exists, and the covered enti-
9 ty refuses to adopt such alternative policy or prac-
10 tice.

11 “(B)(i) With respect to demonstrating that a par-
12 ticular policy or practice causes a disparate impact as de-
13 scribed in subparagraph (A)(i), the person aggrieved shall 14 demonstrate that each particular challenged policy or 15 practice causes a disparate impact, except that if the per-
16 son aggrieved demonstrates to the court that the elements
17 of a covered entity’s decisionmaking process are not capa-
18 ble of separation for analysis, the decisionmaking process
19 may be analyzed as 1 policy or practice.

20 “(ii) If the covered entity demonstrates that a specific 21 policy or practice does not cause the disparate impact, the
22 covered entity shall not be required to demonstrate that
23 such policy or practice is necessary to achieve the goals
24 of its program or activity.

1 “(2) A demonstration that a policy or practice is nec-
2 essary to achieve the goals of a program or activity may
3 not be used as a defense against a claim of intentional
4 discrimination under this title.

5 “(3) In this subsection, the term ‘demonstrates’
6 means meets the burdens of production and persuasion.”.

7 (d) FAIR HOUSING ACT.—The Fair Housing Act
8 (title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968; 42 U.S.C. 3601 9 et seq.) is amended—

10 (1) in section 802, by adding at the end the fol-
11 lowing:

12 “(p) ‘Sex’ has the meaning given such term in section 13 208 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

14 “(q) ‘Source of income’ includes—

15 “(1) any income from a profession, occupation, 16 or job;

17 “(2) any form of Federal, State, or local hous-
18 ing assistance provided to a family or provided to a 19 housing owner on behalf of a family, or private as-20 sistance, grant, loan or rental assistance program, 21 including low-income housing assistance certificates,
22 rental subsidies from nongovernmental organiza-
23 tions, and vouchers issued under the United States
24 Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. 1437 et seq.);

1 “(3) any income received during a taxable year
2 as Social Security benefits, as defined in section 3 86(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, or as 4 supplemental security income benefits under title
5 XVI of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1381 et 6 seq.);

7 “(4) any gift, inheritance, pension, annuity, or 8 other consideration or benefit;

9 “(5) any income received pursuant to court
10 order, including spousal support and child support;

11 “(6) any payment from a trust, guardian, or 12 conservator;

13 “(7) any income from the sale or pledge of 14 property or an interest in property; and 15 “(8) any other lawful source of income.

16 “(r) ‘Race’, ‘color’, ‘religion’, ‘sex’, ‘sexual orienta-17 tion’, ‘gender identity’, ‘handicap’, ‘familial status’, 18 ‘source of income’, or ‘national origin’, used with respect 19 to an individual, includes—

20 “(1) the race, color, religion, sex, sexual ori-
21 entation, gender identity, handicap, familial status,
22 source of income, or national origin, respectively, of 23 another person with whom the individual is associ-24 ated or has been associated; and

1 “(2) a perception or belief, even if inaccurate,
2 concerning the race, color, religion, sex, sexual ori-
3 entation, gender identity, handicap, familial status,
4 source of income, or national origin, respectively, of 5 the individual.”;

6 (2) in section 804, by inserting “(as defined in
7 section 208 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964), source 8 of income,” after “sex” each place that term ap-
9 pears;

10 (3) in section 805, by inserting “(as defined in 11 section 208 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964), source
12 of income,” after “sex” each place that term ap-
13 pears;

14 (4) in section 806, by inserting “(as defined in 15 section 208 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964), source 16 of income,” after “sex”;

17 (5) in section 807 (42 U.S.C. 3607), by adding 18 at the end the following:

19 “(c) Nothing in this title shall be construed to—

20 “(1) prohibit an entity from providing housing 21 assistance under section 8(o)(19) of the United 22 States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C.
23 1437f(o)(19)) in a nondiscriminatory manner; or 24 “(2) limit the ability of the owner of a dwelling 25 to determine, in a commercially reasonable and non-

1 discriminatory manner, the ability of a person to af-2 ford to purchase or rent the dwelling.”; and

3 (6) in section 808(e)(6) (42 U.S.C. 3608(e)(6)), 4 by inserting “source of income,” after “handicap,”.

5 (e) PREVENTION OF INTIMIDATION IN FAIR HOUS-
6 ING CASES.—Section 901 of the Civil Rights Act of 1968
7 (42 U.S.C. 3631) is amended by inserting “(as such term
8 is defined in section 208 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964), 9 source of income (as defined in section 802),” after “sex” 10 each place that term appears.

11 SEC. 4. RIGHT OF RECOVERY.
