A BILL

To impose sanctions with respect to economic or industrial espionage by foreign adversarial companies, and for other purposes.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Economic Espionage
5 Prevention Act”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7       Congress finds the following:

7 (B) In the second half of 2023, China ex-
8 ported between $25,000,000 and $50,000,000
9 in additional semiconductors to Russia every 10 month relative to pre-invasion levels.

11 (C) During the same period, China also ex-
12 ported between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000
13 in additional exports to Russia every month to 14 known transshipment hubs.

(D) These exports include both Chinese and United States-branded semiconductors (integrated circuits), according to analysis of commercially available trade data by the Bureau of Industry and Security of the Department of Commerce, and are almost certainly supporting Russia's military capabilities based on Ukrainian analysis of recovered Russian weapons.

23 (E) Because of the prevalence of United
24 States manufacturing equipment in global semi-
25 conductor supply chains, nearly all chips pro-

1           duced worldwide, including in the People's Re-
2           public of China, are subject to United States
3           export controls if destined for Russia or 4           Belarus.

5           (F) All advanced semiconductors described
6           on the Commerce Control List have been sub-
7           ject to a license requirement if destined to an 8           entity in Russia since its further invasion of 9           Ukraine.

10          (2) On April 3, 2024, Deputy Secretary of 11          State, Kurt Campbell, said “I think we have as-
12          sessed, over the course of the last couple of months
13          that Russia has almost completely reconstituted
14          militarily. And after the initial setbacks on the bat-
15          tlefield delivered to them by a brave and hearty
16          group in Ukraine, with the support of China in par-
17          ticular, dual use capabilities and a variety of other
18          efforts, industrial and commercial, Russia has re-
19          tooled and now poses a threat to Ukraine. . .But not
20          just to Ukraine, its new found capabilities pose a
21          longer term challenge to stability in Europe and 22          threatens NATO allies.”.

23 SEC. 3. REPORT.
