Whereas the Transcontinental Railroad was one of the most remarkable engineering feats of the 19th century;

Whereas the construction of the Transcontinental Railroad spanned 6 years and stretched for nearly 2,000 miles;

Whereas the Chinese railroad workers were considered indispensable by their foremen and were respected for their work ethic and discipline;

Whereas the Chinese railroad workers set a world record by laying 10 miles of railroad track in just one work day;

Whereas the Chinese railroad workers were given the most difficult, dangerous jobs and were paid lower wages than other railroad workers;

Whereas nearly 1,200 Chinese railroad workers died from work accidents, avalanches, and explosions while working in the Sierra Nevada Mountains;

Whereas, in 2014, the Department of Labor has inducted the Chinese railroad workers into the Labor Hall of Honor for their courage in organizing in pursuit of fair wages and safe working conditions;

Whereas the Chinese railroad workers' fight against discrimination set an example for the millions of Asian Americans who came to the United States after them;

Whereas both the descendants of these workers and the wider Asian-American community view the sacrifices of the Chinese railroad workers as being integral to the creation of the vibrant and growing Asian-American community that exists throughout the country today; and
