

118TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

S. 1239

To promote environmental literacy.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

APRIL 20, 2023

Mr. REED (for himself, Ms. COLLINS, and Mr. MERKLEY) introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions

A BILL

To promote environmental literacy.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “No Child Left Inside
5 Act of 2023”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 Congress finds the following:

8 (1) Hands-on experiences in nature help build 9 stronger, smarter, and happier children.

10 (2) Children and young adults are increasingly 11 disconnected from the natural world around them,

1 spending less time outside playing, exploring, and 2 learning.

3 (3) Quality education for students includes reg-
4 ular opportunities to make connections outside of 5 the classroom.

6 (4) Environmental education, when integrated 7 across the curriculum, has positive impacts on the 8 development of important skills, such as critical
9 thinking, problem solving, and citizenship and lead-
10 ership skills.

11 (5) Every student should have the opportunity
12 to participate in residential outdoor education pro-
13 grams or comparable outdoor education programs.

14 (6) Outdoor and environmental education pro-
15 grams have been shown to build critical thinking
16 skills and leadership skills, and can improve student
17 attendance and retention rates.

18 (7) Colleges, universities, and higher education
19 associations play a critical role in cultivating the 20 next generation of scientists, engineers, educators,
21 planners, and business leaders for 21st century ca-
22 reers in the public and private sectors.

23 (8) Environmental education, as part of the for-24 mal prekindergarten through grade 12 school cur-
25 riculum, has positive impacts on student achieve-

1 ment in all subjects, and especially in science, read-
2 ing, mathematics, and social studies, and improves
3 critical thinking skills, enthusiasm for learning,
4 stewardship, and healthy lifestyles.

5 (9) The Partnership for 21st Century Learning
6 identified environmental literacy as one of the key
7 interdisciplinary themes critical to helping students
8 to acquire the skills, knowledge, and expertise nec-
9 essary to succeed in work and life.

10 (10) The Programme for International Student 11 Assessment (PISA) rankings find that the United 12 States is falling behind other nations in preparing 13 students with the educational tools necessary to 14 compete for the growing opportunities in the 15 sciences, including careers related to the environ-
16 ment, natural resources, and energy.

17 (11) Forty-six States have developed, or are in 18 the process of developing, environmental literacy
19 plans to effectively integrate environmental edu-
20 cation into the prekindergarten through grade 12
21 curriculum and to ensure that students graduate 22 from high school environmentally literate.

23 (12) Support from the Department of Edu-
24 cation is needed to help State and local educational 25 agencies, and the partners of such agencies, imple-

1 ment environmental literacy plans and advance State
 2 curriculum frameworks for environmental and nat-
 3 ural resource education that meets new State aca-
 4 demic content and student achievement standards.

5 (13) Federal science agencies, natural resource
 6 agencies, and other agencies have important re-
 7 sources, including Federal lands and laboratories, 8 content experts, data, and programs, that can in-
 9 form and support State and local environmental lit-
 10 eracy policies and programming.

11 SEC. 3. ENVIRONMENTAL LITERACY.
