Enactment of this legislation could cost the Courts $5,200 ongoing from the General Fund beginning in FY 2020 for additional court time to review and issue orders for designated examiners to obtain the mental health history of individuals who are being evaluated for civil commitment. This estimate assumes five percent of individuals, or about 100 of 2,000 cases annually, will refuse to release their mental health history voluntarily. The Courts have indicated they can absorb these costs in their existing budget.

Notes on Notes

Fiscal notes estimate the direct costs or revenues of enacting a bill. The Legislature uses them to balance the budget. They do not measure a bill's benefits or non-fiscal impacts like opportunity costs, wait times, or inconvenience. A fiscal note is not an appropriation. The Legislature decides appropriations separately.
