263 ~~damages or~~] a civil penalty, and damages in the name of the state, any of its political 264 subdivisions or agencies, or as parens patriae on behalf of natural persons in this state, for a 265 violation of this act. Actions may be brought under this section regardless of whether the 266 plaintiff dealt directly or indirectly with the defendant. This remedy is an additional remedy to 267 any other remedies provided by law. It may not diminish or offset any other remedy.

268 (2) Any individual who violates this act is subject to a civil penalty of not more than 269 $100,000 for each violation. Any person, other than an individual, who violates this act is 270 subject to a civil penalty of not more than $500,000 for each violation.

271 Section 5. Section 76-10-3109 is amended to read:

272 76-10-3109. Person may bring action for injunctive relief and damages -- Treble
273 damages -- Recovery of actual damages or civil penalty by state or political subdivisions
274 -- Immunity of political subdivisions from damages, costs, or attorney fees.

275 (1) (a) A person who is a citizen of this state or a resident of this state and who is

276 injured or is threatened with injury in his business or property by a violation of the Utah
277 Antitrust Act may bring an action for injunctive relief and damages, regardless of whether the 278 person dealt directly or indirectly with the defendant. This remedy is in addition to any other 279 remedies provided by law. It may not diminish or offset any other remedy.

280 (b) Subject to the provisions of Subsections (3), (4), and (5), the court shall award three 281 times the amount of damages sustained, plus the cost of suit and a reasonable attorney fees, in 282 addition to granting any appropriate temporary, preliminary, or permanent injunctive relief.

283 (2) (a) If the court determines that a judgment in the amount of three times the damages 284 awarded plus attorney fees and costs will directly cause the insolvency of the defendant, the 285 court shall reduce the amount of judgment to the highest sum that would not cause the 286 defendant's insolvency.

287 (b) The court may not reduce a judgment to an amount less than the amount of 288 damages sustained plus the costs of suit and reasonable attorney fees.

289 (3) The state or any of its political subdivisions may recover [~~the actual~~] three times the 290 amount of damages it sustains[~~-or~~] and the civil penalty provided by the Utah Antitrust Act, in 291 addition to injunctive relief, costs of suit, and reasonable attorney fees.

292 (4) No damages, costs, or attorney fees may be recovered under this section:

293 (a) from any political subdivision;

294 (b) from the official or employee of any political subdivision acting in an official 295 capacity; or

296 (c) against any person based on any official action directed by a political subdivision or 297 its official or employee acting in an official capacity.

298 (5) Subsection (4) does not apply to cases filed before April 27, 1987, unless the 299 defendant establishes and the court determines that in light of all the circumstances, including 300 the posture of litigation and the availability of alternative relief, it would be inequitable not to 301 apply Subsection (4) to a pending case.

302 (6) When a defendant has been sued in one or more actions by both direct and indirect 303 purchasers, whether in state court or federal court, a defendant shall be entitled to prove as a 304 partial or complete defense to a claim for damages that the damages incurred by the plaintiff or 305 plaintiffs have been passed on to others who are entitled to recover so as to avoid duplication 306 of recovery of damages. In an action by indirect purchasers, any damages or settlement

307 amounts paid to direct purchasers for the same alleged antitrust violations shall constitute a 308 defense in the amount paid on a claim by indirect purchasers under this chapter so as to avoid 309 duplication of recovery of damages.

310 (7) It shall be presumed, in the absence of proof to the contrary, that the injured 311 persons who dealt directly with the defendant incurred at least 1/3 of the damages, and shall, 312 therefore, recover at least 1/3 of the awarded damages. It shall also be presumed, in the 313 absence of proof to the contrary, that the injured persons who dealt indirectly with the 314 defendant incurred at least 1/3 of the damages, and shall, therefore, recover at least 1/3 of the 315 awarded damages. The final 1/3 of the damages shall be awarded by the court to those injured 316 persons determined by the court as most likely to have absorbed the damages.

317 (8) There is a presumption, in the absence of proof to the contrary and subject to 318 Subsection (7), that each level in a product's or service's distribution chain passed on any and 319 all increments in its cost due to an increase in the cost of an ingredient or a component product 320 or service that was caused by a violation of this chapter. This amount will be presumed, in the 321 absence of evidence to the contrary, to be equal to the change in the cost, in dollars and cents, 322 of the ingredient, component product, or service to its first purchaser.

323 (9) The attorney general shall be notified by the plaintiff about the filing of any class
324 action involving antitrust violations that includes plaintiffs from this state. The attorney 325 general shall receive a copy of each filing from each plaintiff. The attorney general may, in his 326 or her discretion, intervene or file amicus briefs in the case, and may be heard on the question 327 of the fairness or appropriateness of any proposed settlement agreement.

328 (10) If, in a class action or parens patriae action filed under this chapter, including the 329 settlement of any action, it is not feasible to return any part of the recovery to the injured 330 plaintiffs, the court shall order the residual funds be applied to benefit the specific class of 331 injured plaintiffs, to improve antitrust enforcement generally by depositing the residual funds
332 into the Attorney General Litigation Fund created by Section 76-10-3114, or both.

333 (11) In any action brought under this chapter, the court shall approve all attorney fees 334 and arrangements for the payment of attorney fees, including contingency fee agreements.

336 76-10-3114. Attorney General Litigation Fund.

337 (1) (a) There is created an expendable special revenue fund known as the Attorney

338 General Litigation Fund for the purpose of providing funds to pay for:

341 Protection of Personal Information Act~~[-]; and~~ 342 (ii) citizen education and outreach related to any item described in Subsection (1)(a)(i).

343 (b) ~~[These]~~ The funds described in Subsection (1)(a) are in addition to other funds as

348 ~~[(e)]~~ (d) The attorney general may expend money from the Attorney General Litigation
349 Fund for the purposes in Subsection (1)(a).

350 (2) (a) All money received by the state or its agencies by reason of any judgment,

352 by the attorney general, after payment of any fines, restitution, payments, costs, or fees
353 allocated by the court, shall be deposited in the Attorney General Litigation Fund, except as 354 provided in Subsection (2)(b).

355 (b) (i) Any expenses advanced by the attorney general in any of the actions under 356 Subsection (1)(a) shall be credited to the Attorney General Litigation Fund.

357 (ii) Any money recovered by the attorney general on behalf of any private person or 358 public body other than the state shall be paid to those persons or bodies from funds remaining 359 after payment of expenses under Subsection (2)(b)(i).

360 ~~[(3) The Division of Finance shall transfer any money remaining in the Antitrust~~
