8. Fiscal Implications: The proposed bill is expected to impact several state agencies and potentially all counties and cities.

Revenue Impact

According to the Virginia Department of Taxation, and based upon projected marijuana sales in Virginia as determined by JLARC in conjunction with MPG Consulting, it is estimated that this bill could generate total revenues ranging between $13.8 million and $23.0 million in FY 2024; $67.4 million and $112.6 million in FY 2025; $103.8 million and $173.0 million in FY 2026; and $135.6 million and $225.9 million in FY 2027.

The higher end of this range reflects optimistic estimates of illegal market conversion, relative equilibrium between supply and demand, and that no other states or the federal government also legalize these products. The lower end reflects less optimistic estimates of illegal market conversion, possible periods of disequilibrium between supply and demand, and the possibility that surrounding states or the federal government also would legalize marijuana. The FY 2024 estimates are based on five months of collections.

Below is the distribution of total revenues based upon the lower end estimates:

	FY 2024*	FY 2025	FY 2026

The Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (VDACS) may generate additional revenue from the licensing of hemp testing laboratories. The bill provides that the license shall not exceed $50. The potential number of hemp testing laboratories that may be licensed is unknown, therefore, the revenue that could be generated cannot be determined. The bill also provides that the VDACS Commissioner may assess civil penalties for violations related to the provisions of hemp products and hemp testing. Some revenue will likely be generated from civil penalties, however, the amount collected cannot be determined. All penalties collected by the Commissioner from civil penalties is to be deposited in the state treasury.

Courts

This bill eliminates criminal penalties for possession of marijuana for persons who are 21 years or older. The bill also modifies several other criminal penalties related to marijuana and provides for an expungement process for those convicted of certain marijuana-related crimes.

Petition Expungements

The bill provides that a person convicted or adjudicated delinquent of a felony violation of former § 18.2-248.1 (transporting controlled substance into the Commonwealth), or charged under that section and the charge was deferred and dismissed, may petition the court for expungement of the court and police records if five years have passed since the date of completion of all terms of sentencing and probation. This provision would increase the workload on general district court and juvenile and domestic relations district court clerks who would be tasked with locating the physical case file for each expunged case, sealing its contents, indexing the case and deleting the electronic record for each case in the case management system. The Office of the Executive Secretary of the Supreme Court (OES) estimates that the tasks required of a district court deputy clerk to expunge a case would consume 10 minutes. Between 2010 and 2019 there were 147 adjudications of delinquency under 18.2-248.1 in juvenile and domestic relations district courts (JDR). Within the same time period in general district court (GDC), there were 12,220 felony cases for violations of Va. Code § 18.2-248.1 certified to circuit court. Records indicate that there were 10,734 guilty verdicts for violations of § 18.2-248.1 in circuit court. Assuming that 50 percent of the 10,881 convictions were expunged in accordance with the bill's provisions, and that the vast majority of the circuit court convictions had a preliminary hearing within general district court, the statewide workload of district clerks would increase by 0.7 of a full time clerk's office position. The number of cases deferred and dismissed for felony violations of § 18.2-248.1 within the timeframe in JDR and circuit court is minimal and is not expected to have a substantial impact on the district court workload. This is an annual increase in work equal to $46,293.70.

Automatic Expungements

The bill also provides that police and court records of a person charged with a misdemeanor violation of § 18.2-248.1 (transporting controlled substance into the Commonwealth) or subsection A of § 18.2-265.3 (penalties for sale of drug paraphernalia) as it relates to marijuana, or a violation of former § 18.2-250.1 (possession of marijuana unlawful) must be expunged if the person has satisfied all terms of sentencing and probation (including payment of all court costs and fines and all orders of restitution). Additionally, Class 1 and Class 2 violations of § 18.2-250 (possession of controlled substance unlawful) that resulted in a conviction, or a deferred dismissal, will also be automatically expunged if specific conditions are met.

The Department of State Police (VSP) is responsible for identifying such cases and electronically submitting a list to the OES and any circuit court clerk who maintains a case management system that interfaces with VSP at least monthly. OES must then, on at least a monthly basis, provide an electronic list of all offenses that meet the criteria for automatic expungement to the circuit court clerks that utilize the case management system it maintains. The clerk receiving the list would then be required to prepare an order to be entered by the chief judge directing that the offenses that meet the criteria be automatically expunged. The circuit court clerk must provide, on a monthly basis, an electronic copy of any order entered by the chief judge regarding automatic expungement to VSP. Upon receipt of such order, VSP will proceed as set forth in the newly-established § 19.2-392.9 (Disposition of records when an offense is automatically expunged; permitted uses of automatically expunged records). Any records maintained electronically shall be considered expunged if they are transformed to an offline system or to a confidential and secure area inaccessible from normal use within the system in which the record is maintained, provided they are still accessible only to the manager of the records. The records cannot be open for public inspection or otherwise disclosed, except to specific entities that are granted an exception by statute.

The automatic expungement process contained in the bill appears to require an electronic exchange of information with VSP. As part of the technology changes necessary to implement, the following is a partial list of some of the tasks that OES has identified that must be accomplished in order to implement the bill:

- Modification of 17 public or external facing systems to prohibit access to automatically sealed cases and modifications of more than 20 internal systems and interfaces;
- Develop and implement incoming and outgoing interfaces with VSP to receive and process cases for automatic sealing and orders voiding sealing;
- Development of new Expungement Management System (EXMS), which includes project setup, infrastructure configuration, and development of capabilities to fully implement bill's requirements;
- Performance and load testing of all affected systems;
- Address database security and roles to ensure that only authorized users see the automatically sealed data; and

- Assign additional processing units to systems to handle the increased load during seal list processing, which will also include additional data storage capabilities and software licensing costs.

OES has determined that the total one-time cost of system enhancements is $6,156,130.

Virginia State Police (VSP)

According to VSP, bill requires fingerprint based criminal history record checks be completed on all individuals that apply to be licensed. The fingerprints of the licensee are to be forwarded to the Department of State Police, Central Criminal Records Exchange (CCRE) so that criminal history record checks may be processed.

In the recent Joint Legislative Audit and Review Commission (JLARC) report outlining the key considerations for the legalization of marijuana, it was estimated that approximately 1,550 licenses would be issued for marijuana establishments. Currently, the Non-Criminal Justice (NCJ) section of the CCRE is tasked with processing criminal history record background checks. It is anticipated that fingerprint submissions would be cards. Within the fingerprint-based criminal record check process, fingerprint technicians are used to establish the identification of the fingerprints in order to match the information to the appropriate criminal history record. Once this match, or no match takes place, a program support technician in the NCJ section processes the criminal history record results and forwards the information to the requesting agency. VSP estimates needing one fingerprint technician and one program support technician to process the additional background checks that are expected to be generated from this bill. These positions are estimated to cost $81,026 annually for the fingerprint technician and $72,537 annually for the program support technician.

In addition, this bill requires that convictions for felony §18.2-248.1 be eligible for expungement under the petition based expungement process. Under the current CCRE expungement process, each expungement employee can complete 500 expungements a year. Currently, there are 21,518 records in the CCRE that would meet the criteria for expungement. VSP cannot determine at this time how many individuals would take advantage of this expungement. However, if you assume 10 percent of the total records to be expunged, VSP would need five additional Program Support Technician Senior positions (estimated at $377,967 annually) and one additional Office Services Supervisor Senior (estimated at $75,903 annually) to meet this bill's requirements.

According to VSP, the agency cannot meet the statutory requirements of this bill with its existing systems. The current systems cannot handle the volume of the proposed workload nor the complexity of the required reprogramming. At minimum, VSP believes the following systems would need to be replaced:

- Criminal History System
- Applicant Tracking System
- Expungement System
- Master Name Index System

As a part of this upgrade, the Civil Commitment System must be upgraded and Rap Back introduced to keep all systems on a unified platform and to maximize cost savings. VSP estimates a cost of $12,500,000 for these systems upgrades as required by enactment clause #21.

The bill establishes § 19.2-392.7 (C) (1) and (2) which would require the State Police to complete out-of-state criminal history reviews to look for convictions. Currently, technology does not exist that allows the automation of this function. Every state and territory uses their own terminology for designating, “convictions” and each state and territory’s criminal history is laid out differently. Therefore, VSP believes that every record that needs review under the proposed § 19.2-392.7 (C) (1) and (2) will require personnel to examine the record, confirm the requirements of the state or territory from which the record originated, and to conduct research on incomplete records. The total number of records in CCRE that would meet the criteria for review is 304,799. From 2017 to 2019, VSP averaged receiving 30,100 records per year. Because of the complexity of the out-of-state criminal record reviews, VSP believes the agency will need additional analysts to perform this function. VSP estimates each new analyst can review, research, and process 6,000 out-of-state criminal record examinations per year.

The Fifteenth enactment clause requires VSP to delete all records from the CCRE that are not reportable under § 19.2-390 (A) (1). VSP estimates that it would cost $15,000 to develop and implement this functionality.

Department of Education (DOE)

Enactment clauses of the bill require DOE to implement a plan to ensure that teachers have access to information, resources, and lesson ideas to teach about the harms of marijuana use. It requires DOE to review currently available resources to determine if additional or updated materials are needed and to provide or develop additional materials as needed. According to DOE, the agency would need one-time funding of $50,000 for additional contract assistance to develop the plan and review all resources. In addition, the agency would need one-time funding of $100,000 to develop new resources.

The bill also requires the development of a plan for introducing teachers to the information and resources available to assist them in teaching the 2020 Health Standards of Learning as it relates to marijuana use. The plan must include providing professional development webinars as well as ongoing professional development relating to marijuana. In order for these professional development opportunities to be practical, DOE estimates it would need to develop web-based modules that can be accessed by teachers in real-time. One-time development costs for online modules are estimated to be $150,000. DOE estimates an additional $10,000 per year in ongoing costs related to hosting and maintenance fees. The estimated total state impact of HB 2312 to DOE would be $310,000 in FY 2023 and $10,000 per year beginning in FY 2024.

Criminal Sentencing Impact

According to the Virginia Sentencing Commission while the proposal would eliminate certain criminal penalties related to marijuana from the Code and reduce penalties for other offenses, it would establish a number of new misdemeanors and felonies for engaging in activities related to the cultivation, manufacture, testing and sale of marijuana without the required license or otherwise engaging in prohibited practices related to the production, sale, etc., of marijuana. If enacted, the proposal also specifies that monthly tax returns filed by licensees must be made under oath, which may have felony implications for making a material false statement on the return.

The net effect on the number of convicted individuals and the impact on judicial sentencing patterns cannot be estimated. Therefore, the net impact on the future state-responsible (prison) bed space needs of the Commonwealth cannot be determined. Pursuant to § 30-19.1:4, the estimated amount of the necessary appropriation cannot be determined for periods of imprisonment in state adult correctional facilities; therefore, Chapter 56, 2021 Acts of Assembly, Special Session I, requires the Virginia Criminal Sentencing Commission to assign a minimum fiscal impact of $50,000. Pursuant to § 30-19.1:4, the estimated amount of the necessary appropriation cannot be determined for periods of commitment to the custody of the Department of Juvenile Justice.

The total anticipated fiscal impact as a result of the proposed legislation on OES, VSP, DOE, and DOC is $0 in FY 2021, $20,428,456 in FY 2022, $1,962,353 in FY 2023, and $1,662,353 in FY 2024.

Virginia Cannabis Control Authority

Establishing the Virginia Cannabis Control Authority as a standalone agency likely will require funding to hire personnel, acquire office space and other operational costs. The bill provides, as allowed by the Governor, the Board may deduct from the net profits quarterly a sum for the creation of a reserve fund not exceeding the sum of $2.5 million in connection with the administration and to provide for the depreciation on the buildings, plants, and equipment owned, held, or operated by the Board. However, JLARC estimates that the first year cost could be $3 to $4 million with second year cost coming in at $7 to $9 million. Once fully operational, it is anticipated that ongoing operational costs will be $9 to $12 million. These are estimated costs based on other states. It is estimated that the new agency would need funding support for at least the first 2 years of operations before sufficient revenues are generated to cover the cost of operations.

Virginia Retirement System (VRS)

According to the Virginia Retirement System (VRS), the substitute bill impacts three of the agency's plans: 1) Virginia Retirement System (VRS), 2) Virginia Law Officers' Retirement System (VaLORS) and 3) Optional Retirement Plan for Political Appointees (ORPPA). In addition, there may be a need for administrative implementation of Line of Duty Act (LODA) benefits. The need for VRS to allocate resources to incorporate the new Virginia Cannabis Control Authority into its plans will depend on the overall implementation schedule for creating the new Authority and the appointing or hiring of employees. VRS estimates its implementation cost to be approximately $145,000. This figure does not include the impact to future contribution rates for VRS or VaLORS, the premium rates for LODA, or the impact on the funded status of the plans. Additionally, if implementation for the new Authority impacts the work VRS is doing to implement the new Cardinal system, there may be an additional cost of $50,000.

Office of the Attorney General (OAG)

According to the Office of the Attorney General, the substitute bill is not expected to have a material fiscal impact on its agency operations.

Virginia Indigent Defense Commission (VIDC)

Since marijuana has already been decriminalized, VIDC does not expect the proposed bill will have a material fiscal impact on its agency operations.

Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Services (DBHDS)

Information from DBHDS is still pending, and the fiscal impact statement will be updated as necessary.

Virginia Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (VADACS)

The bill also requires VADACS to adopt regulations related to edible marijuana products. Currently, VADACS handles food safety in the Commonwealth and conducts inspections of food establishments. At this time, the agency is unable to determine the increase in inspections that may result from this bill. Additional resources may be needed in future years.

Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV)

According to DMV, under the substitute bill, the agency would expunge an estimated 5,100 records annually at a cost of $38 per expungement, with the agency requiring three additional positions. In addition, the agency would incur one-time costs of $9 per record expungement for the automated portion of its expungement process and related activities, with that cost rate applied to an estimated 25,400 records.

Department of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS)

According to Department of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS), the substitute bill is not expected to have material fiscal impact on agency operations. Although it is likely that local probation agencies will see some cost reductions from already-passed decriminalization legislation, no further cost reductions are expected from any future legalization efforts. Additionally, DCJS staff indicate that projected savings from decriminalization may not be realized because of other recent legislative changes that could increase local agencies' workloads.

Drug Offender Assessment Fund

The marijuana bill repeals two current laws related to marijuana possession: §18.2-248.1, which presumes that the possession of no more than one ounce is for personal use and §18.2-250.1 which assesses a $25 civil penalty for unlawful possession of marijuana, with penalties deposited into the Drug Offender Assessment Fund. The Fund supports community-based probation and local pretrial services agencies and the Office of the Executive Secretary of the Supreme Court of Virginia for the operation of drug treatment court programs. The bill also proposes § 4.1-1100, which establishes that, except as otherwise provided in the new subtitle and notwithstanding any other provision of law, a person 21 years-of-age or older may lawfully possess on his person or in any public place not more than one ounce of marijuana or an equivalent amount of marijuana product as determined by regulation promulgated by the Board of Directors of the Virginia Cannabis Control Authority. Any person who possesses on his person or in any public place marijuana or marijuana products in excess of the amounts set forth by the Board is subject to a civil penalty of no more than $25. A violation of this section is a civil offense, and any civil penalties collected are to be deposited into the Drug Offender Assessment and Treatment Fund established pursuant to § 18.2-251.02. This legislation may impact the amount of revenue deposited into the Drug Offender Assessment and Treatment Fund; however, it is not possible to estimate either the number of convictions that may result or the amount of each fine that may be assessed under this legislation. Therefore, the impact of this provision cannot be determined.

Other Agencies

It is possible the bill could have an impact on the Department of Corrections, local law enforcement, court clerks, as well as colleges and universities. Information has been requested from these agencies and entities and is still pending. The impact statement will be updated accordingly if additional information becomes available.

Additionally, it is not feasible to estimate the revenue that would be generated from the various civil penalties and fees associated with the proposed legislation.
