1 AN ACT Relating to recognizing "Native American Heritage Day";
2 amending RCW 1.16.050; and creating a new section.

3 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

4 NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) Native Americans have inhabited
5 Washington state since time immemorial. Their sustainable culture is 6 based on cooperation among neighbors and respect for the land and for 7 all creatures living on it. Since the birth of America, Native
8 Americans have contributed immeasurably to our country and our 9 heritage, distinguishing themselves as scholars, artists, 10 entrepreneurs, and leaders in all aspects of our society. They have 11 also served in the United States armed forces with honor and 12 distinction, defending the security of our nation with their lives.

13 (2) America's journey has been marked by both bright times of 14 progress and dark moments of injustice for Native Americans. America's 15 history, however, has not replicated the same peace or respect towards 16 Native Americans. The Native American population was disrupted and 17 nearly destroyed through European colonization. Genocide, slavery, and 18 political and cultural repression were consequential adversities Native
19 Americans had to overcome. In the face of such hardships, Native

1 Americans endured; their cultural beliefs flourished; and today we 2 celebrate their importance to the United States and the state of 3 Washington.

4 (3) In 1990, former President George H.W. Bush approved a joint 5 resolution of congress designating November 1990 "National American 6 Indian Heritage Month." Similar proclamations have been issued each 7 year since 1994. In 2008, congress designated Friday, November 28, 8 2008 as "Native American Heritage Day" and encouraged the people of the 9 United States, as well as federal, state, and local governments and 10 interested groups and organizations to observe "Native American 11 Heritage Day" to pay tribute to Native Americans for their many 12 contributions to the United States. In 2010, President Barack Obama
13 approved a presidential proclamation designating November 2010
14 "National Native American Heritage Month" and called upon all Americans 15 to celebrate November 26, 2010, the Friday after Thanksgiving Day, as 16 Native American Heritage Day. A day honoring Native American heritage
17 is supported by one hundred eighty-four federally recognized Native
18 American tribes throughout the United States. Thus, it is the intent
19 of the legislature to declare the fourth Friday in November as "Native
20 American Heritage Day."

21 Sec. 2. RCW 1.16.050 and 2012 c 11 s 1 are each amended to read as
