AUTHORS SUBJECT TO CHANGE

1 AN ACT to repeal 253.12 (3) (c); to amend 253.12 (2) (a) (intro.), 253.12 (2) (d),
2 253.12 (3) (a) 2. and 253.12 (4) (a); and to create 253.12 (3) (d) and 253.12 (5)
3 (a) 5. of the statutes; relating to: various changes to birth defect prevention
4 and surveillance system.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill makes various changes to the birth defect prevention and surveillance system. Under current law, with consent of a parent or guardian of an infant or child who has been diagnosed with or is suspected of having a birth defect, a physician or pediatric specialty clinic is required to report the diagnosis or suspicion of birth defect to the Department of Health Services if the birth defect is on a list promulgated by rule. A hospital is allowed, with parent or guardian consent, to report the diagnosis or suspicion of birth defect to DHS. The bill, instead of requiring affirmative consent for birth defect reporting, allows the parent or guardian to state in writing that he or she refuses to release the name or address of the child.

Under current law, DHS is required to promulgate rules to specify which birth defects are required to be reported. This bill requires the DHS secretary to maintain a list of birth defects that the Council on Birth Defect Prevention and Surveillance has unanimously decided should be required to be reported. The bill requires that DHS specify by rule any birth defects that it determines are required to be reported and that the council has not unanimously decided to require to be reported.

Under current law, information in reports to the birth defect prevention and surveillance system that identifies the subject of the report is confidential except under certain conditions, such as releasing the information to the parent or guardian of the infant or child for whom the report is made or to a local health officer or other coordinator of a special needs program to render and coordinate services. This bill allows release of information identifying the subject of the report to the state registrar, vital records system, and other data systems of the state or a federal agency for the purposes of determining whether multiple reports are made for the same infant or child, matching information with vital records and other registries, and making referrals to intervention and treatment.

The bill eliminates a provision in the administrative code for DHS that requires DHS to delete the name of the child from the report within 10 years of the date of receipt of the report by the birth defects prevention and surveillance system. The bill also conforms the administrative code for DHS to the statutory changes in the bill.
