AUTHORS SUBJECT TO CHANGE

- 1 AN ACT to create 134.985 of the statutes; relating to: consumer data protection
2 and providing a penalty.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill establishes requirements for controllers and processors of the personal data of consumers. The bill defines a “controller” as a person that, alone or jointly with others, determines the purpose and means of processing personal data, and the bill applies to controllers that control or process the personal data of at least 100,000 consumers or that control or process the personal data of at least 25,000 consumers and derive over 50 percent of their gross revenue from the sale of personal data. Under the bill, “personal data” means any information that is linked or reasonably linkable to an individual except for publicly available information.

The bill provides consumers with the following rights regarding their personal data: 1) to confirm whether a controller is processing the consumer’s personal data and to access the personal data; 2) to correct inaccuracies in the consumer’s personal data; 3) to require a controller to delete personal data provided by or about the consumer; 4) to obtain a copy of the personal data that the consumer previously provided to the controller; and 5) to opt out of the processing of the consumer’s personal data for targeted advertising; the sale of the consumer’s personal data; and certain forms of automated processing of the consumer’s personal data. These rights are subject to certain exceptions specified in the bill. Controllers may not discriminate against a consumer for exercising rights under the bill, including by charging different prices for goods or providing a different level of quality of goods or services.

SENATE BILL 957

The bill requires controllers to respond to consumers' requests to invoke rights under the bill without undue delay. If a controller declines to take action regarding a consumer's request, the controller must inform the consumer of its justification without undue delay. The bill also requires that information provided in response to a consumer's request be provided free of charge up to twice annually per consumer. Controllers must also establish processes for consumers to appeal a refusal to take action on a consumer's request. Within 60 days of receiving an appeal, a controller must inform the consumer in writing of any action taken or not taken in response to the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for its decisions. If the appeal is denied, the controller must provide the consumer with a method through which the consumer can contact the attorney general to submit a complaint.

Under the bill, a controller must provide consumers with a privacy notice that discloses the categories of personal data processed by the controller; the purpose of processing the personal data; the categories of third parties, if any, with whom the controller shares personal data; the categories of personal data that the controller shares with third parties; and information about how consumers may exercise their rights under the bill. Controllers may not collect or process personal data for purposes that are not relevant to or reasonably necessary for the purposes disclosed in the privacy notice. The bill's requirements do not restrict a controller's ability to collect, use, or retain data for conducting internal research, effectuating a product recall, identifying and repairing technical errors, or performing internal operations that are reasonably aligned with consumer expectations or reasonably anticipated on the basis of a consumer's relationship with the controller.

Persons that process personal data on behalf of a controller must adhere to a contract between the controller and the processor, and such contracts must satisfy certain requirements specified in the bill. The bill also requires controllers to conduct data protection assessments related to certain activities, including processing personal data for targeted advertising, selling personal data, processing personal data for profiling purposes, and processing sensitive data, as defined in the bill. The attorney general may request that a controller disclose a data protection assessment that is relevant to an investigation being conducted by the attorney general.

The attorney general has exclusive authority to enforce violations of the bill's requirements. A controller or processor that violates the bill's requirements is subject to a forfeiture of up to $7,500 per violation, and the attorney general may recover reasonable investigation and litigation expenses incurred. Before bringing an action to enforce the bill's requirements, the attorney general must first provide a controller or processor with a written notice identifying the violations. If within 30 days of receiving the notice the controller or processor cures the violation and provides the attorney general with an express written statement that the violation is cured and that no further violations will occur, then the attorney general may not bring an action against the controller or processor. The bill also prohibits cities, villages, towns, and counties from enacting or enforcing ordinances that regulate the collection, processing, or sale of personal data.

SENATE BILL 957

1 controller shall comply with an authenticated consumer request to exercise any of 2 the following rights:

3 1. To confirm whether or not a controller is processing the consumer's personal 4 data and to access such personal data.

5 2. To correct inaccuracies in the consumer's personal data, taking into account
6 the nature of the personal data and the purposes of the processing of the consumer's
7 personal data.

8 3. To delete personal data provided by or obtained about the consumer.

9 4. To obtain a copy of the consumer's personal data that the consumer 10 previously provided to the controller in a portable and, to the extent technically 11 feasible, readily usable format that allows the consumer to transmit the data to 12 another controller without hindrance, where the processing is carried out by 13 automated means.

14 5. To opt out of the processing of the personal data for purposes of targeted 15 advertising, the sale of personal data, or profiling in furtherance of decisions that 16 produce legal or similarly significant effects concerning the consumer.

17 (b) 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a controller shall comply 18 with a request by a consumer to exercise the consumer rights authorized under par.
19 (a).

20 2. A controller shall respond to a consumer without undue delay, but in all cases
21 within 45 days of receipt of a request submitted under par. (a). The response period 22 may be extended once by 45 additional days when reasonably necessary, taking into 23 account the complexity and number of the consumer's requests, so long as the 24 controller informs the consumer of any such extension within the initial 45-day
25 response period, together with the reason for the extension.

SENATE BILL 957

1 3. If a controller declines to take action regarding a consumer's request, the 2 controller shall inform the consumer without undue delay, but in all cases and at the 3 latest within 45 days of receipt of the request, of the justification for declining to take 4 action and instructions for how to appeal the decision under par. (c).

5 4. Information provided in response to a consumer request shall be provided
6 by a controller free of charge, up to twice annually per consumer. If requests from 7 a consumer are manifestly unfounded, excessive, or repetitive, the controller may 8 charge the consumer a reasonable fee to cover the administrative costs of complying 9 with the request or decline to act on the request. The controller bears the burden of 10 demonstrating the manifestly unfounded, excessive, or repetitive nature of the 11 request.

12 5. If a controller is unable to authenticate the request using commercially 13 reasonable efforts, the controller may not be required to comply with a request to 14 initiate an action under par. (a) and may request that the consumer provide 15 additional information reasonably necessary to authenticate the consumer and the 16 consumer's request.

17 (c) A controller shall establish a process for a consumer to appeal the 18 controller's refusal to take action on a request within a reasonable period of time
19 after the consumer's receipt of the decision pursuant to par. (b) 3. The appeal process
20 shall be conspicuously available and similar to the process for submitting requests 21 to initiate action under par. (a). Within 60 days of receipt of an appeal, a controller 22 shall inform the consumer in writing of any action taken or not taken in response to 23 the appeal, including a written explanation of the reasons for the decisions. If the 24 appeal is denied, the controller shall also provide the consumer with an online

SENATE BILL 957

1 mechanism, if available, or other method through which the consumer may contact
2 the attorney general to submit a complaint.

3 (3) DATA CONTROLLER RESPONSIBILITIES; TRANSPARENCY. (a) 1. A controller shall 4 limit the collection of personal data to what is adequate, relevant, and reasonably
5 necessary in relation to the purposes for which such data is processed, as disclosed
6 to the consumer.

7 2. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a controller may not process
8 personal data for purposes that are not reasonably necessary to and not compatible
9 with the disclosed purposes for which such personal data is processed, as disclosed
10 to the consumer, unless the controller obtains the consumer's consent.

11 3. A controller shall establish, implement, and maintain reasonable 12 administrative, technical, and physical data security practices to protect the 13 confidentiality, integrity, and accessibility of personal data. Such data security 14 practices shall be appropriate to the volume and nature of the personal data at issue.

15 4. A controller may not process personal data in violation of state and federal 16 laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination against consumers. A controller may not 17 discriminate against a consumer for exercising any of the consumer rights contained 18 in this section, including denying goods or services, charging different prices or rates 19 for goods or services, or providing a different level of quality of goods and services to 20 the consumer. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to require a controller 21 to provide a product or service that requires the personal data of a consumer that the 22 controller does not collect or maintain, or to prohibit a controller from offering a 23 different price, rate, level, quality, or selection of goods or services to a consumer, 24 including offering goods or services for no fee, if the consumer has exercised his or 25 her right to opt out under sub. (2) (a) 5. or the offer is related to a consumer's

SENATE BILL 957

1 voluntary participation in a bona fide loyalty, rewards, premium features, discounts,
2 or club card program.

3 5. A controller may not process sensitive data concerning a consumer without 4 obtaining the consumer's consent, or, in the case of the processing of sensitive data 5 concerning a known child, without processing such data in accordance with the 6 federal Children's Online Privacy Protection Act, 15 USC 6501 et seq.

7 (b) Any provision of a contract or agreement that purports to waive or limit
8 consumer rights under sub. (2) is void and unenforceable.

9 (c) A controller shall provide consumers with a reasonably accessible, clear, and 10 meaningful privacy notice that includes all of the following:

11 1. The categories of personal data processed by the controller.

12 2. The purpose of processing personal data.

13 3. How consumers may exercise their consumer rights under sub. (2), including 14 how a consumer may appeal a controller's decision with regard to the consumer's
15 request.

16 4. The categories of personal data that the controller shares with 3rd parties, 17 if any.

18 5. The categories of 3rd parties, if any, with whom the controller shares
19 personal data.

20 (d) If a controller sells personal data to 3rd parties or processes personal data 21 for targeted advertising, the controller shall clearly and conspicuously disclose such 22 processing, as well as the manner in which a consumer may exercise the right to opt 23 out of such processing.

24 (e) A controller shall establish, and shall describe in a privacy notice, one or 25 more secure and reliable means for consumers to submit a request to exercise their

SENATE BILL 957

1 consumer rights under this section. Such means shall take into account the ways in 2 which consumers normally interact with the controller, the need for secure and 3 reliable communication of such requests, and the ability of the controller to 4 authenticate the identity of the consumer making the request. Controllers may not 5 require a consumer to create a new account in order to exercise consumer rights
6 under sub. (2) but may require a consumer to use an existing account.

7 (4) RESPONSIBILITY ACCORDING TO ROLE; CONTROLLER AND PROCESSOR. (a) A 8 processor shall adhere to the instructions of a controller and shall assist the 9 controller in meeting its obligations under this section. Such assistance shall include 10 the following:

11 1. Taking into account the nature of processing and the information available 12 to the processor, by appropriate technical and organizational measures, insofar as 13 this is reasonably practicable, to fulfill the controller's obligation to respond to 14 consumer rights requests under sub. (2).

15 2. Taking into account the nature of processing and the information available 16 to the processor, by assisting the controller in meeting the controller's obligations in 17 relation to the security of processing the personal data and in relation to giving notice
18 of unauthorized acquisition of personal information under s. 134.98.

19 3. Providing necessary information to enable the controller to conduct and 20 document data protection assessments under sub. (5).

21 (b) A contract between a controller and a processor shall govern the processor's 22 data processing procedures with respect to processing performed on behalf of the 23 controller. The contract shall be binding and clearly set forth instructions for 24 processing data, the nature and purpose of processing, the type of data subject to 25 processing, the duration of processing, and the rights and obligations of both parties.

SENATE BILL 957

1 The contract shall also include requirements that the processor shall do all of the 2 following:

3 1. Ensure that each person processing personal data is subject to a duty of 4 confidentiality with respect to the data.

5 2. At the controller's direction, delete or return all personal data to the 6 controller as requested at the end of the provision of services, unless retention of the 7 personal data is required by law.

8 3. Upon the reasonable request of the controller, make available to the 9 controller all information in its possession necessary to demonstrate the processor's 10 compliance with the obligations in this section.

11 4. At least one of the following:

12 a. Allow, and cooperate with, reasonable assessments by the controller or the 13 controller's designated assessor.

14 b. Arrange for a qualified and independent assessor to conduct an assessment 15 of the processor's policies and technical and organizational measures in support of 16 the obligations under this section using an appropriate and accepted control
17 standard or framework and assessment procedure for such assessments. The 18 processor shall provide a report of such assessment to the controller upon request.

19 5. Engage any subcontractor pursuant to a written contract in accordance with 20 par. (c) that requires the subcontractor to meet the obligations of the processor with 21 respect to the personal data.

22 (c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to relieve a controller or a 23 processor from the liabilities imposed on it by virtue of its role in the processing 24 relationship as defined by this section.

SENATE BILL 957

1 (d) Determining whether a person is acting as a controller or processor with 2 respect to a specific processing of data is a fact-based determination that depends
3 upon the context in which personal data is to be processed. A processor that 4 continues to adhere to a controller's instructions with respect to a specific processing
5 of personal data remains a processor.

6 (5) DATA PROTECTION ASSESSMENTS. (a) A controller shall conduct and document 7 a data protection assessment of each of the following processing activities involving 8 personal data:

9 1. The processing of personal data for purposes of targeted advertising.

10 2. The sale of personal data.

11 3. The processing of personal data for purposes of profiling, where such 12 profiling presents a reasonably foreseeable risk of any of the following:

13 a. Unfair or deceptive treatment of, or unlawful disparate impact on, 14 consumers.

15 b. Financial, physical, or reputational injury to consumers.

16 c. Physical or other intrusion upon the solitude or seclusion, or the private 17 affairs or concerns, of consumers, where such intrusion would be offensive to a 18 reasonable person.

19 d. Other substantial injury to consumers.

20 4. The processing of sensitive data.

21 5. Any processing activities involving personal data that present a heightened 22 risk of harm to consumers.

23 (b) Data protection assessments conducted under par. (a) shall identify and 24 weigh the benefits that may flow, directly and indirectly, from the processing to the 25 controller, the consumer, other stakeholders, and the public against the potential

SENATE BILL 957

1 risks to the rights of the consumer associated with such processing, as mitigated by 2 safeguards that can be employed by the controller to reduce such risks. The use of 3 deidentified data and the reasonable expectations of consumers, as well as the 4 context of the processing and the relationship between the controller and the 5 consumer whose personal data will be processed, shall be factored into this 6 assessment by the controller.

7 (c) The attorney general may request, pursuant to a civil investigative demand
8 issued under sub. (10) (a), that a controller disclose any data protection assessment 9 that is relevant to an investigation conducted by the attorney general, and the 10 controller shall make the data protection assessment available to the attorney 11 general. The attorney general may evaluate the data protection assessment for 12 compliance with the responsibilities set forth in sub. (3). Data protection 13 assessments shall be confidential and not subject to the right of inspection and 14 copying under s. 19.35 (1). The disclosure of a data protection assessment pursuant 15 to a request from the attorney general shall not constitute a waiver of attorney-client 16 privilege or work product protection with respect to the assessment and any 17 information contained in the assessment.

18 (d) A single data protection assessment may address a comparable set of 19 processing operations that include similar activities.

20 (e) Data protection assessments conducted by a controller for the purpose of 21 compliance with other laws or regulations may comply under this section if the 22 assessments have a reasonably comparable scope and effect.

23 (f) Data protection assessment requirements shall apply to processing
24 activities created or generated after January 1, 2024, and are not retroactive.

SENATE BILL 957

1 (6) PROCESSING DEIDENTIFIED DATA; EXEMPTIONS. (a) A controller in possession
2 of deidentified data shall do all of the following:

3 1. Take reasonable measures to ensure that the data cannot be associated with 4 an individual.

5 2. Publicly commit to maintaining and using deidentified data without 6 attempting to reidentify the data.

7 3. Contractually obligate any recipients of the deidentified data to comply with 8 all provisions of this section.

9 (b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require a controller or processor
10 to reidentify deidentified data or pseudonymous data; maintain data in identifiable 11 form; or collect, obtain, retain, or access any data or technology, in order to be capable 12 of associating an authenticated consumer request with personal data.

13 (c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require a controller or processor 14 to comply with an authenticated consumer rights request under sub. (2) if all of the 15 following apply:

16 1. The controller is not reasonably capable of associating the request with the 17 personal data or it would be unreasonably burdensome for the controller to associate 18 the request with the personal data.

19 2. The controller does not use the personal data to recognize or respond to the 20 specific consumer who is the subject of the personal data, or associate the personal 21 data with other personal data about the same specific consumer.

22 3. The controller does not sell the personal data to any 3rd party or otherwise 23 voluntarily disclose the personal data to any 3rd party other than a processor, except 24 as otherwise permitted in this subsection.

SENATE BILL 957

1 (d) The consumer rights contained in subs. (2) (a) 1. to 4. and (3) shall not apply
2 to pseudonymous data in cases where the controller is able to demonstrate any 3 information necessary to identify the consumer is kept separately and is subject to 4 effective technical and organizational controls that prevent the controller from 5 accessing such information.

6 (e) A controller that discloses pseudonymous data or deidentified data shall 7 exercise reasonable oversight to monitor compliance with any contractual 8 commitments to which the pseudonymous data or deidentified data is subject and 9 shall take appropriate steps to address any breaches of those contractual 10 commitments.

11 (7) LIMITATIONS. (a) Nothing in this section shall be construed to restrict a 12 controller's or processor's ability to do any of the following:

- 13 1. Comply with federal, state, or local laws, rules, or regulations.
- 14 2. Comply with a civil, criminal, or regulatory inquiry, investigation, subpoena, 15 or summons by federal, state, local, or other governmental authorities.
- 16 3. Cooperate with law enforcement agencies concerning conduct or activity that 17 the controller or processor reasonably and in good faith believes may violate federal, 18 state, or local laws, rules, or regulations.
- 19 4. Investigate, establish, exercise, prepare for, or defend legal claims.
- 20 5. Provide a product or service specifically requested by a consumer, perform 21 a contract to which the consumer is a party, including fulfilling the terms of a written 22 warranty, or take steps at the request of the consumer prior to entering into a 23 contract.

SENATE BILL 957

1 6. Take immediate steps to protect an interest that is essential for the life or 2 physical safety of the consumer or of another individual, and where the processing
3 cannot be manifestly based on another legal basis.

4 7. Prevent, detect, protect against, or respond to security incidents, identity
5 theft, fraud, harassment, malicious or deceptive activities, or any illegal activity;
6 preserve the integrity or security of systems; or investigate, report, or prosecute
7 those responsible for any such action.

8 8. Engage in public or peer-reviewed scientific or statistical research in the 9 public interest that adheres to all other applicable ethics and privacy laws and is 10 approved, monitored, and governed by an institutional review board, or similar 11 independent oversight entities that determine all of the following:

18 under this section.

19 (b) The obligations imposed on controllers or processors under this section shall 20 not restrict a controller's or processor's ability to collect, use, or retain data to do any 21 of the following:

22 1. Conduct internal research to develop, improve, or repair products, services, 23 or technology.

24 2. Effectuate a product recall.

SENATE BILL 957

6 with processing data in furtherance of the provision of a product or service 7 specifically requested by a consumer or the performance of a contract to which the 8 consumer is a party.

9 (c) The obligations imposed on controllers or processors under this section shall 10 not apply where compliance by the controller or processor with this section would 11 violate an evidentiary privilege under ch. 905. Nothing in this section shall be 12 construed to prevent a controller or processor from providing personal data
13 concerning a consumer to a person covered by an evidentiary privilege under ch. 905
14 as part of a privileged communication.

15 (d) A controller or processor that discloses personal data to a 3rd-party 16 controller or processor, in compliance with the requirements of this section, is not in

19 of disclosing the personal data, the disclosing controller or processor did not have 20 actual knowledge that the recipient intended to commit a violation. A 3rd-party 21 controller or processor receiving personal data from a controller or processor in 22 compliance with the requirements of this section is likewise not in violation of this

5 the course of a purely personal or household activity.

7 be processed for any purpose other than those expressly listed in this subsection
8 unless otherwise allowed by this section. Personal data processed by a controller

14 specific purposes listed in this subsection. Personal data collected, used, or retained 15 pursuant to par. (b) shall, where applicable, take into account the nature and purpose 16 or purposes of such collection, use, or retention. Such data shall be subject to 17 reasonable administrative, technical, and physical measures to protect the 18 confidentiality, integrity, and accessibility of the personal data and to reduce 19 reasonably foreseeable risks of harm to consumers relating to such collection, use, 20 or retention of personal data.

21 (g) If a controller processes personal data pursuant to an exemption in this 22 section, the controller bears the burden of demonstrating that such processing 23 qualifies for the exemption and complies with the requirements in par. (f).

24 (h) Processing personal data for the purposes expressly identified in par. (a) 25 shall not solely make an entity a controller with respect to such processing.
