AUTHORS SUBJECT TO CHANGE

1 Relating to: recognizing June 19, 2013, as Juneteenth Day.

2 Whereas, President Abraham Lincoln issued the Emancipation Proclamation
3 on January 1, 1863, proclaiming all individuals enslaved in Confederate territory to 4 be forever free, and ordered the Army and all parts of the executive branch to treat 5 as free all those enslaved; and

6 Whereas, more than two years later, on June 19, 1865, in Galveston, Texas, the 7 U.S. Army, led by Major General Gordon Granger, announced the abolition of slavery 8 to those still trapped in darkness, unshackling the last remaining enslaved African 9 Americans from the grip of slavery; and 10 Whereas, Juneteenth Day is the oldest commemoration of the abolition of 11 slavery throughout the nation, long celebrated in the city of Milwaukee and codified 12 in 2009 by the state of Wisconsin as an official legal holiday; and

13 Whereas, Juneteenth Day is a time of remembrance, reflection, and celebration 14 across the state and the nation, a day to honor the elimination of slavery and to 15 celebrate the proclamation of freedom; now, therefore, be it
