AUTHORS SUBJECT TO CHANGE

1 Relating to: proclaiming December 1, 2016, through December 7, 2016, as National 2 Tolerance Week in Wisconsin.

3 Whereas, in 2013, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported that there were 4 5,992 confirmed hate crimes committed throughout the United States; and

5 Whereas, hate crimes have taken lives, destroyed property, and intimidated 6 communities; and

7 Whereas, the dangers of intolerance are numerous and have historically proven 8 to weaken communities and divide society by race, religion, and disability; and

9 Whereas, intolerance and marginalization have led to the oppression of 10 minority groups, and this oppression is against the values that make America great; 11 and

12 Whereas, any person can be a victim of a hate crime, even if that person belongs 13 to a group constituting a majority in society; for instance, investigators have 14 gathered evidence suggesting that the perpetrator of the recent mass shooting at 15 Umpqua Community College purposefully targeted Christians; and
